

Dr. Cantine's 50th Anniversary Rites Held Last Night

Members of Reformed Church and Friends of Founder of Arabian Mission Celebrate 'Golden Milestone'

Seeley Tribute

Dr. F. B. Seeley Says Cantine Has Brought Greatest Honor to Church

In an atmosphere that radiated affectionate regard and genuine appreciation for a man who had served 50 years in the Christian ministry as a laborer in the missionary field, the Rev. Dr. James Cantine of Stone Ridge was honored at the Fair Street Reformed Church Wednesday night as members of the Classis of Ulster and prominent ministers of the Reformed Church in America joined with a large congregation in celebration of the "Golden Milestone" of the Arabian Mission.

The occasion marked the 50th anniversary of Dr. Cantine's ordination in that same church before he entered with others upon his labors as one of the founders of that mission.

During the service Dr. Cantine was presented with a handsome doctor's gown, the presentation being made by Dr. Frank B. Seeley, on behalf of friends of the church. In making the presentation Dr. Seeley said, "The greatest honor that ever came to this church was when James Cantine was ordained in this church to Christian ministry in the Reformed Church and to the missionary work in Arabia. The Church is stronger for what he has said, done and witnessed. No man has ever been more loved." Noting that Dr. Cantine's alma mater many years ago honored him with the degree of Doctor of Divinity, and saying that his friends had wanted to do something to mark the auspicious occasion, Dr. Seeley then presented the gift with evident appreciation saying, "I thank you, and all the friends of this church, from my heart."

Following the organ prelude by Mrs. Ella Elling and a devotional service by the Rev. Dr. Frank B. Seeley, the annual business meeting was held.

Mrs. Gerret Wulfschlaeger of New Paltz, recording secretary, gave a report of the union's activities and Mrs. Chester C. Chilton of Hurley, treasurer, reported on the financial condition of the service.

Miss Florence N. Relyea of Bloomingville, corresponding secretary, gave an interesting summary of the work done by the auxiliaries, which indicated that they had been active during the past year, with many hundreds of dollars raised for the missionary work, foreign and domestic, of the church.

Mrs. Edgar Ellsworth of St. Remy and Miss Ellen Van Slyke of Kingston reported for the classical committees on foreign and domestic missions. Miss Van Slyke commented on the faithful service, covering a period of 20 years, given by Mrs. Ellsworth and at the same time announced that it was Mrs. Ellsworth's birthday anniversary. In recognition of that event she presented to Mrs. Ellsworth a corsage of beautiful roses.

Following the opening service, Dr. Seeley who presided during the evening, called upon the Rev. Cornelius Myles, pastor of the Reformed Church of the Comforter, who read resolutions adopted by the Classis of Ulster at its fall meeting at Stone Ridge recently. The resolutions testified to the appreciation by Classis of the long service of Dr. Cantine in the Christian ministry, his faithfulness to duty and the honor that had accrued to the church through his zealous labors and the affectionate regard in which he is held by his brother ministers.

Dr. Cantine, introduced by the Rev. John DeBore, for the past 15 years a missionary to India, spoke on the work of the Arabian Mission, not so much from the viewpoint of what he had done there, or what has been done by

Girl to Survive

Aspiring Artist Who Falls Into Polar Bear Cage at Cleveland Zoo Rallies

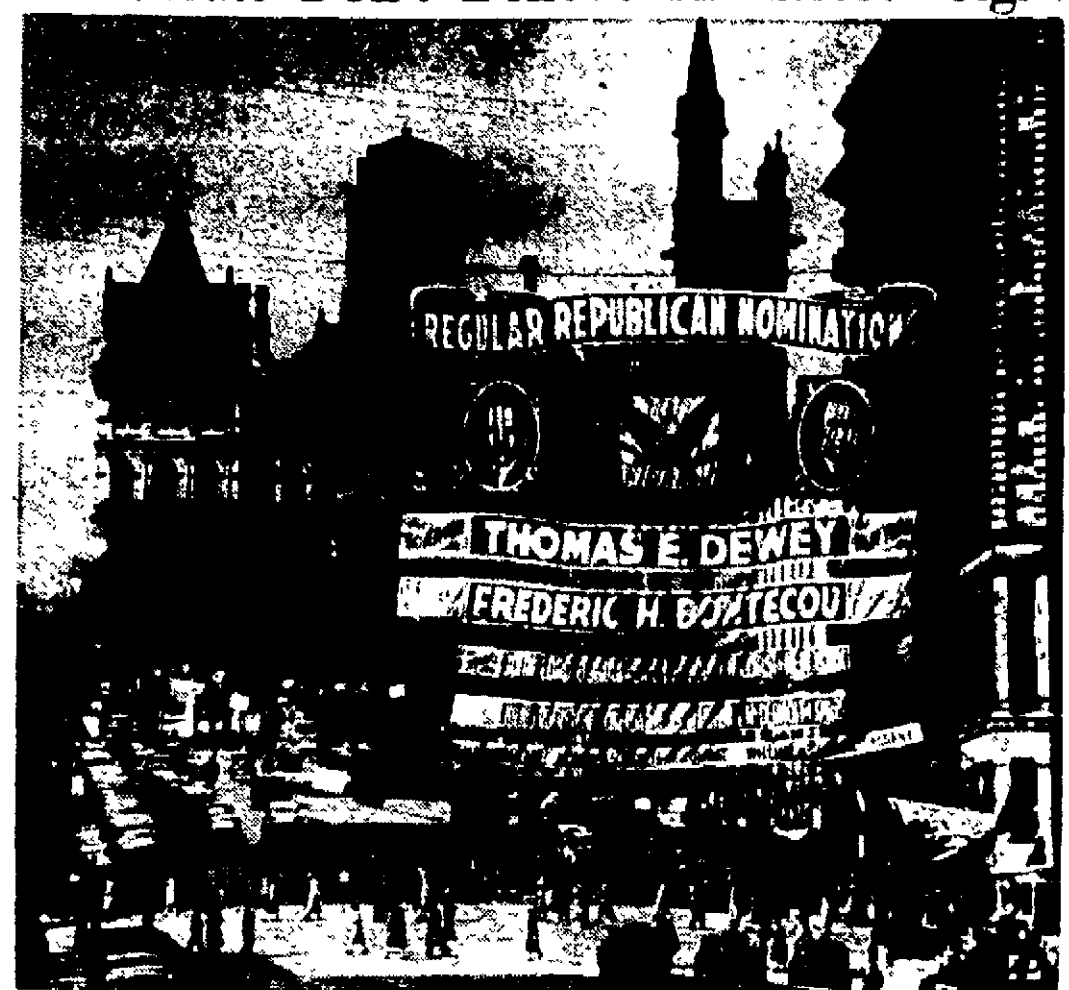

Cleveland, Oct. 27 (AP)—Julia Zennick, 21, will survive a vicious attack by a polar bear in a Brookside zoo cage, doctors said today, but it may be necessary to remove her left eye.

Proounced in critical condition from loss of blood and multiple injuries, the attractive Federal Art Project worker rallied after a blood transfusion in which Clyde Henderson, 33, high school teacher and friend of the aspiring artist, was the donor.

Miss Zennick was sketching the 600-pound bear, called "Silver," yesterday when she tumbled or was pulled into the cage by the female bear. For nearly 20 minutes "Silver" clawed the girl.

Miss Zennick was rescued by Curley Wilson, zoo superintendent, and two aides.

Democrats Don't Believe in 'These' Signs

When Democratic administration office-holders approach the New York statehouse (background) in Albany, they encounter these impressive campaign banners of Thomas E. Dewey, G. O. P. gubernatorial candidate, and his cohorts. Dewey, in a speaking tour, brought the fight against Democratic Gov. Herbert Lehman right in the capital city.

Lehman Orders Meeting With Newburgh Leaders

Earl West Is First Casualty of Season While Out Hunting

Napanoch Man, 57, Reported in Fair Condition Today at Ellenville Hospital; Friend's Account

Earl West, 57, of Napanoch the first victim of the local hunting season, was reported this morning as holding his own at Veterans Memorial Hospital, Ellenville, where he was taken Wednesday afternoon following a gun shot wound. At first Dr. Orran M. Roberts believed a transfusion would be necessary but Mr. West responded so well to treatment that a transfusion was not deemed necessary. Several persons from the vicinity volunteered to give blood if required.

Mr. West left his home in Napanoch to go hunting shortly after lunch and was in the vicinity of Lackawack when he was wounded. The shooting was accidental.

William Stangle, Lackawack resident, was hunting in the locality and after the shooting he said he had seen a motion in the woods. Believing it was a squirrel he fired. There was some brush between the hunter and the point at which he aimed and as he fired the charge took effect in West's body. As soon as struck he cried out and Stangle rushed to his aid as did several workmen in the locality. He was taken to the hospital and treated by Dr. Roberts. While it is not definitely known how many shots took effect, it is believed that there may have been a second shot fired before Stangle realized that he had fired toward another hunter. At the hospital West was found to be wounded in the right arm and shoulder and also in the back. Shot from the wound in the back penetrated the flesh and entered the lung.

This morning it was stated that the injury was not considered of a critical nature.

Mr. West is brother of Ben West former justice of the peace at Napanoch.

City, Not NYA, Negotiates

Negotiations are pending between Mrs. Jennie Silverberg of 732 Broadway and the city administration for the leasing of St. James gas house property owned today by James Lynch, who is in charge of the local National Youth Administration office. It is planned to use the building as a work center.

Governor Acts Upon Request of Federal Grand Jury After Charges Are Launched Against City Officials

While at Watertown today Governor Lehman asked officials of the city of Newburgh and Orange county to confer with him next Monday regarding a federal grand jury's request for an investigation of conditions in Newburgh, where illicit liquor stills were found, the Associated Press reports.

The governor sent telegrams to the mayor and city manager of Newburgh and the district attorney and sheriff of Orange county inviting them to meet him at his New York city home "so they can advise me further regarding this matter."

A letter acted after receiving a letter from the grand jury saying conditions in Newburgh "are reprehensible and should be thoroughly investigated."

The grand jury last Monday indicted 45 persons, including several operating in Newburgh, on tax evasion charges in connection with an illegal liquor ring.

"No Judgment"

The governor, notifying newspapermen of his action before leaving here for Syracuse to continue his campaign for re-election, said:

"I can't form any judgment until I have received the facts from the Newburgh and Orange county officials."

Grand Jurors' Letter

The grand jurors' letter to Governor Lehman follows:

Hon. Herbert H. Lehman, Governor, State of New York, Albany, N. Y.

Your Excellency:

As members of the Federal Grand Jury in the Southern District of New York, serving continuously during August and September, and part of October, 1938, and being public-spirited citizens and residents of the State of New York, we deem it our duty to file with you, Honorable Sir, our recommendations in reference to conditions within the City of Newburgh, N. Y., as per our findings.

We have just completed a thorough investigation in reference to illicit still operations on a very large scale which were located within 600 feet of the City Hall and police headquarters of the City of Newburgh, and other nearby places within the city.

We have had 99 witnesses before us in connection with the case in question.

Among those were many of the ranking elected and appointed city officials, including the mayor, city manager and others—also many members of the Newburgh Police Department, including the chief and certain of his immediate subordinate officers, and also some of the regular patrolmen.

Notwithstanding the fact that testimony was presented to us to the effect that even school children discussed operation of the still, yet all of the city officials and police officers, appearing before us, without exception knew nothing whatsoever of the operation of the still or the existence of vice and gambling conditions which were rampant on a large scale until raided by federal officers.

The investigation disclosed, in our opinion, that conditions in

New York's District Attorney Twists Opponent for Silence; Lehman Asks Dewey for Farm Program

New York, Oct. 27 (AP)—Challenging Governor Lehman to prove that his claim of a balanced budget was based on anything more than "the niceties of book-keeping," Thomas E. Dewey today carried his Republican gubernatorial campaign back upstate.

The Manhattan district attorney in a speech last night at the Nassau county fairgrounds at Mineola, Long Island, asserted New York state now is nearly $200,000,000 deeper in debt than when his Democratic rival took office and that total taxes collected have increased by 77 per cent.

After brief stops during the afternoon at Binghamton, Oswego and Waverly, Dewey will deliver a broadcast address (8-8-20 p. m., WHAM, Rochester) at Elmira.

In his Mineola speech Dewey twitted the governor for remaining silent in the face of Republican charges that Albany county was run by "political racketeers."

"These things about the city of Albany are common knowledge among all those who visit that city," he told a crowd estimated by party leaders at 10,000. "I am sure the governor did not know these things—but his political advisers could have told him. And now he knows."

Jersey City Under Orders

Federal Judge William Clark Today Issues Writ Banning Future 'Deportations' and Restraining Hague and Officials From Interfering With Speechmaking

Newark, N. J., Oct. 27 (AP)—Federal Judge William Clark today ordered an end to Jersey City "deportations" and restrained Mayor Frank Hague and fellow officials from interfering with the CIO's rights of speechmaking in public parks, distribution of leaflets on the streets, and carrying of placards.

Judge Clark, who during the trial was elevated to the Third United States Circuit Court of Appeals, to which both sides have indicated they would appeal his decision, recommended "a modified form of public censorship"—a requirement that an advance copy of a speech must be furnished to authorities in cases where "the particular persons applying for permits had on previous occasions addressed similar audiences with resulting disturbances."

The 15,000-word decision did not rule on the plaintiffs' complaint that the Hague administration intimidated owners of private meeting halls into refusing to rent to them. The judge ruled there was no competent evidence to connect city officials with the inability to obtain indoor meeting places.

U. S. Tells Japan in Sharp Note To Respect American Rights And Serves Warning to World

Presidential Pronouncement on Foreign Policy Promises Western Hemisphere Protection

Unusual Speech

Smashes Precedent in Condemning 'Force' Nations as Threatening U. S.

New York, Oct. 27 (AP)—The United States, through President Roosevelt, served notice on the world today it would protect the western hemisphere from foreign interference and, while desiring disarmament, would not disarm "while neighbor nations arm to the teeth."

The President, in his first pronouncement on American foreign policy since the Czechoslovakian crisis, made a virtually unprecedented shattering condemnation of nations which employ force, evil and repression as instruments of national policy.

He declared that the government of foreign nations "must not threaten the world with the disaster of war" and asserted no useful purpose is served to suggest "either to the American people or the peoples of other nations that the American government in its policies, its practices and its servants are actuated by motives of dishonor or corruption."

Attack on America

"To do so," he said, "is, of necessity, an attack on the American system of government itself."

The President voiced his views last night in an address broadcast from the White House to the eighth annual New York Herald Tribune forum on current problems.

The Chief Executive followed his predecessor Herbert Hoover, who urged the United States to initiate resumption of world economic conferences as a vital step towards peace, and Viscount Halifax, the British foreign minister.

The British cabinet minister, in a broadcast from London, urged the United States to join hands with Great Britain in establishing world peace, and again defended his nation's course in the recent crisis.

Deplores Competition

President Roosevelt deplored armaments competition but asserted that until foreign nations give something more than verbal assurances that they desire disarmament—until disarmament discussions are actually started—the United States must arm "to meet with success any application of force against us."

And without mentioning either the Munich conference which averted war over the partitioning of Czechoslovakia or measures taken against racial groups in certain European countries, the President arraigned conditions under which there can be "no peace."

"It is becoming increasingly clear," he said, "that peace by fear has no higher or more enduring quality than peace by the sword."

"There can be no peace if the reign of law is to be replaced by a recurrent sanctification of sheer force."

"There can be no peace if national policy adopts as a deliberate instrument the threat of war."

"There can be no peace if national policy adopts as a deliberate instrument the dispersion all over the world of millions of helpless and persecuted wanderers with no place to lay their head."

"There can be no peace if

Serious Note Apparent Today In Gala Navy Day Festivities

Sober Business of Building Fleet Designed to Meet Aggression as President Declares for 'Positive Protection' for United States

Washington, Oct. 27 (AP)—America observed Navy Day today with gala displays of her sea forces, but there was a serious note in the festivities.

While the naval service decked out in holiday array to receive millions of visitors, the sober business of building a fleet designed to meet any aggression went steadily on behind the scenes.

Two statements by President Roosevelt gave the annual observance a grimmer significance than was indicated by the waving flags.

The Chief Executive said in a radio speech last night that America must continue to arm "to meet with success any application of force against us" until other nations were willing to accept general disarmament.

In a letter to Secretary Swanson, Mr. Roosevelt declared the fleet must be ready to insure "positive protection against any aggressor."

Even as he wrote, humming shipyards and aircraft plants gave evidence of the accelerated pace of warship and plane construction started by this year's billion-dollar expansion act.

This Navy Day, the seventeenth, coincides with the eightieth birthday anniversary of Theodore Roosevelt. In his letter to Swanston, the President recalled the words of his predecessor and distant kinsman:

"The work of upbuilding the navy must be steadily continued."

In ports on the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific coasts, in the Mediterranean, Caribbean and Eastern Pacific, American warships put on full dress. Sham battles, gun drills, aircraft demonstrations and public addresses by officers all played a part in the observance.

Molynaux Sends Record Bus Load To Clinton Prison

Consignment Comprises 11 Men Sentenced This Week by County Judge Traver; Deputies Are Guards

Sheriff Abram F. Molynaux this morning sent perhaps the largest consignment of prisoners ever to leave Ulster county at one time to Clinton State Prison at Dannemora. The prisoners numbered 11 and were bound for the northern prison to serve terms up to 20 years.

In the past it has been possible to transfer prisoners from the detention cells in the county jail to Dannemora either by car or train but the consignment this morning made the trip in one of Merrimack's buses and the most economical manner in which to transport them to Clinton county. By chartering the bus there was money saved on the railroad fare and there was need for fewer guards to accompany the prisoners.

The delegation left the court house 5 o'clock this morning in charge of Deputy Sheriff Clayton Vrederburg and three assistants. As far as Albany the bus was trailed by a car in which Deputy Sheriffs Brown, Wingo and McCullough rode. These men acted as additional guards during a stop in Albany where the prisoners were given breakfast before continuing on to Dannemora. The bus arrived at the prison by noon making but one stop necessary en route.

The prisoners transferred to prison this morning were those men sentenced by County Judge Frederick G. Traver earlier this week. Those who were taken to Clinton Prison were:

Josh Williams, to serve 10 to 20 years for killing Charles Jones at Goldrick's Landing on October 16, last.

Lonnelle Hall, to serve 5 to 10 years for assault.

Donald Balch, 5 to 10 years as a second offender on a forgery charge.

James O'Neil, alias Daniel F. Lyons, 5 to 10 years as a second offender on a larceny charge.

Otis Wells, 5 years as a second offender on a forgery charge.

John Witkowski, 2 1/2 to 5 years for robbery.

James F. Curtis, alias James Tobin or John Regan, 2 1/2 to 5 years for larceny.

Howard Gillette, 2 1/2 to 5 years for grand larceny.

Nicholas Savaskie, 2 to 4 years for rape.

Daniel Collins, 2 to 4 years for burglary.

Philip Foster, 2 to 4 years for assault.

Appeals Court Gets ALP Case

Local 'Surrogate' Argument Is First on Calendar at Albany This Afternoon

First on the calendar before the Court of Appeals for argument this afternoon when the court sits at 2 o'clock will be the appeal from the decision of the Appellate Division of Supreme Court, Third Department, in the Ulster county American Labor Party designation for surrogate.

William A. Kaercher appears for Chris J. Flanagan and Hon. George F. Kaufman for Harry H. Flemming, the Republican nominee, who has been designated as the American Labor Party candidate by the decision of the Appellate Division which reversed a decision of the lower court which held that a vote cast by John Davide in the third election district of the town of Ulster was void because the voter had been given illegal assistance. The lower court's decision created a tie vote of 17 to 17 and as a result the Labor Party committee on vacancies designated Mr. Flanagan. When the decision of the lower court was reversed unanimously by the Appellate Division the name of Mr. Flemming was ordered restored by reason of an 18 to 17 vote. Mr. Flemming received 18 votes and Flanagan 17 at the primary election.

The decision of the Court of Appeals may be expected tonight. The court customarily sits from 2 until 5 o'clock to hear cases and then retires for deliberation, handing down decisions immediately in cases which require an immediate decision such as the present election matter.

Lengthy Statement of October 6 Made Public Today Demands Continuance of 'Open Door' Policy

Great Suffering

Points Out That Americans Have Undergone Great Suffering in China

Washington, Oct. 27 (AP)—The United States government has told Japan in a strongly-worded note to stop "unwarranted interference" with American rights in China.

The 3,000-word statement, presented by Ambassador Joseph C. Grew in Tokyo October 6 but made public only today, demanded continuance of the "open door" policy in the Orient.

An early reply was requested. The unofficial interpretation here was that if a favorable answer did not arrive soon, relations between the two countries would become strained.

The United States accused Japan of seeking to make another Manchukuo out of the portions of China she has occupied, and listed a long series of violations in American business and property rights.

The note charged Japan with trying to monopolize all trade in China through setting up pseudo-Chinese monopolies; with manipulating the currency in North China; with altering the tariffs; with keeping American business men from their properties; with censoring and interfering with American mail and telegrams at Shanghai.

It called Japan's changes in the customs offices "arbitrary and illegal assumptions of authority for which the Japanese government has an inescapable responsibility."

All these violations, said the note, "indicate clearly that the Japanese authorities are seeking to establish in areas which have come under Japanese military occupation general preferences for, and superiority of, Japanese interests, an inevitable effect of which will be to frustrate the practical application of the principle of the open door and deprive American nationals of equal opportunity."

Saying Americans already have suffered so greatly from the Sino-Japanese conflict that "an early rehabilitation of American enterprise in China and of American trade with China can not be expected," the note added:

"The American government, therefore finds it all the more difficult to reconcile itself to a situation in which American nationals must contend with continuing unwarranted interference with their rights at the hands of the Japanese authorities in China and with Japanese actions and policies which operate to deprive American trade and enterprise of equality of opportunity in China. . . .

"Your Excellency can not fail to recognize the existence of a great and growing disparity between the treatment accorded American nationals and their trade and enterprises by Japanese authorities in China and Japan and the treatment accorded Japanese nationals and their trade and enterprises by the government of the United States in areas within its jurisdiction."

Some students of Far Eastern affairs professed to see in this statement a veiled threat that if Japan did not accord Americans better treatment, Japanese merchants dealing in or with the United States soon might encounter restrictions.

The note set forth that American interests have been largely squeezed out of Manchukuo by Japan.

"In the opinion of my government," Ambassador Grew wrote, "equality of opportunity of the open door has virtually ceased to exist in Manchuria notwithstanding the assurances of the Japanese government that it would be maintained in that area."

The United States made three

Arranges Visit

President Roosevelt to Accompany Chicago Cardinal to U. S. Navy Yard

Washington, Oct. 27 (AP)—President Roosevelt arranged a Navy Day visit to the Washington navy yard today in company with Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago.

The cardinal, an old friend of Mr. Roosevelt, visited the President this morning in the White House.

After an automobile tour through the navy yard at noon, Mr. Roosevelt and the cardinal arranged to board the President's yacht, Potomac, for a short cruise. The White House said the cardinal would leave Washington for New York late this afternoon on his way to Rome.

U. S. Subs to Be Air-Conditioned

Equipment Is Expected to Keep Crew Fit; Extends Cruising Range.

WASHINGTON.—Air-conditioning for submarines will make America's undersea fighting force a much more potent weapon in any future war.

The efficiency of submarines depends primarily on the fitness of the men who man them and their comfort during long cruises at sea, says Lieut. Albert B. Behnke of the United States navy medical corps, explaining the latest submarine equipment.

Only the fittest officers and enlisted men are chosen for submarine duty, he adds in a report to the military surgeon, and only about half of the navy's personnel measures up to the stiff medical requirements. These requirements are as rigid as the qualifications for aviation duty.

Air-Conditioning Vital.

Few persons realize the difficulties under which submarine crews work and the necessity for such advances as air-conditioning. The men must re-breathe the same air for periods of from 3 to 24 hours—perhaps longer under war conditions.

They must live in very cramped quarters, in which all that a sailor owns must be stored in a space about the size of his own body. A bath is something almost unheard of on a submarine at sea. When the vessel is submerged, particularly in tropical waters or during the summer, the temperature may rise to 100 or above and the humidity increase to the dewpoint, so that sweating (which cools the body) is impossible.

Unhygienic Conditions.

"Submarine duty exposes men to crowded, unhygienic conditions of living, particularly to varying climatic factors, and to increased respiratory tract infection resulting from rapid climatic changes and from re-breathed air," Dr. Behnke points out.

Air-conditioning promises to make possible operation at sea for increased periods of time, he adds. This will extend the craft's range and, accordingly, their effectiveness in meeting an enemy vessel at a distance from American shores.

The use of cooling and dehumidifying equipment and the provision of oxygen from tanks to replace exhaled carbon dioxide will enable submarines to run submerged probably for periods of days, thus adding another factor to their effectiveness in attack or defense.

Even with these aids, the men who operate submarines must be trained and "conditioned" for a period of at least 10 days between cruises, says Dr. Behnke.

'Pep' Refuses to Leave

Crippled Mistress' Side
CADIZ, OHIO.—This is the story of "Pep," a dog of no particular breed.

Mrs. Jack Huston, who lives near Freeport, picked up "Pep" in New Philadelphia, Ohio, when he was only a puppy.

He learned the usual puppy tricks, became a part of the Huston household.

Then, two years ago, Mrs. Huston fell and broke her hip.

"Pep" was denied admission to her room. He tore a small hole in the screen, backed away, plunged through the door and scrambled to his crippled mistress' side. He has seldom been away since, except to fetch articles which she might want.

When she was able to travel about in a wheel chair, "Pep" stood on his hind feet, put his paws on the pusher and pushed with all his might to propel the chair around the house.

Today, he still counts this a regular task, works at it faithfully.

Circus Man Says Movies

Wrong on Wild Animals

ORANGE PARK, FLA.—Dramatic scenes depicted by the movies of hunting wild animals are highly exaggerated and quite often impossible, according to Col. F. J. Mundy, former owner and manager of Mundy's circus.

"Seldom are lions hunted in forests but in flat, open country where the brush is chin-high and the chief danger to the hunter is in wounding a lion," Mundy said.

"Hunting tigers is far more interesting and exciting, but the real test is in training wild animals."

"A lion is never tamed, but by repetition of acts is well trained. Dope is never used in training, as the audience often suspects."

Bank Clearings Dip

New York, Oct. 27 (AP)—Bank clearings in 22 leading cities for the week ended October 26 dipped to $5,225,241,000 from $5,246,201,000 in the comparable 1937 week, a drop of 10.4 per cent. Dun & Bradstreet reported today. This compared with a loss of 8 of 3 per cent for the similar comparison in the preceding week.

POLAR BEAR ATTACKS GIRL ARTIST

Silver, 600-pound Polar bear in a Cleveland zoo, mauled Julia Zemlick (right), 21-year-old WPT artist, for 20 minutes when she fell into his cage. Critically wounded the girl was rescued from the bear just as it was about to drag her into its cage. Arrow indicates girl's notebook in which she was sketching at top of cage. At lower right in cage is pole with which keepers fought off bear.

Artists' Exhibit
In New York City

New York, Oct. 26 (Special)—Several artists of Woodstock and Bearsville will show paintings in the 1938 annual exhibition of Contemporary American Art to be sponsored by the Whitney Museum of American Art. The exhibition has been assembled by the non-jury method of selection, the artists being chosen by the museum. The decision of the works to be submitted is left to the artists, each being limited to one painting.

The Woodstock group comprises Arnold Blanch, who will show a painting entitled "Man and Wife," Jo Cantine, "Young Negro Girl," Karl E. Fortes, "Brickyard," Emil Ganso, "Morning," Doris Lee, "End of Summer," Henry Mattson, "Spring," and Judson Smith, "Village Carpenter."

The two Bearsville artists are Georgina Klitgaard, whose work is called "Opening Spring," and Leon Kroll, "Conversation." The annual will open to the public on November 2.

Dies of Storm Exposure

Albany is still pondering the parking meter question as a solution for the parking congestion business men will attend a meeting tonight at Hotel Ten Eyck to discuss the traffic problem. The Retail Merchants' Bureau has recommended the installation for a trial period. Because of the large number of tourists expected to pass through Albany on their way to the New York World Fair next year better traffic regulations are required.

Theatre Group
Opens Dec. 8

The Ulster County Theatre Association has set Thursday, December 8, as the tentative date for the presentation of "You and I," by Philip Barry, its first play for this season.

The Association has engaged the services of Edwin Kubach, of Union City, N. J., to direct the play. Try-outs for those interested in taking roles in the play will be held on Tuesday, November 1, at Byrne Hall, on Broadway. The cast will be chosen at once, and rehearsals will start the following day. Regular rehearsals will be held four days a week for the following four weeks. In addition to the rehearsal dates, Mr. Kubach will be in this city for the entire week preceding the first presentation.

A graduate of the Yale School of Drama, Mr. Kubach has been associated with the Rutgers Theatre Group and with the Post Road Players. He directed a play last year that was produced as a part of the 200th anniversary celebration of the city of New Haven, Conn.

Rotarians Hear
Talk by Huben

Speaking before the Rotary Club Wednesday noon Edward M. Huben gave a most interesting talk on National Parks and the western vacationlands which he visited during a tour of the west. His talk was along the lines of a talk given last week at Kiwanis.

After outlining the beauties of the western vacationlands Mr. Huben told his listeners that while the national parks in the west were of great size and contained many interesting natural features on a grand scale our own Ulster county lying on the majestic Hudson river could boast of just as great sights in miniature.

He urged the members of Rotary to get behind Ulster county and boost for a development of our vacationland by spreading the beauties and natural advantages among the patrons of the third greatest industry in the country, the hotel and resort business.

By advertising our advantages, he said, a rich harvest could be reaped from travelers bound for the New York World Fair. Located on "Main street" of New York state he stressed the advantages which the Hudson valley has over points distant from the great center of population, New York city.

ARDONIA

RAISING WAGES BY LAW

It is unfortunate, and somewhat shocking, that enforcement of the new federal wage-and-hour law, intended to provide more work at better pay, actually throws some people out of work. The most striking example seems to be in the southern pecan industry, affecting 30,000 to 50,000 people.

It is well in such cases not to jump to rash conclusions and condemn either the employers or the law without a fair trial. The inauguration of any such public control, new to Americans though it may be familiar abroad, takes time for readjustment. A wage of eight to fifteen cents an hour even for light work like pecan shelling is shockingly low for America, and socially unwise. Yet it may be assumed that the pecan industry is adjusted to that wage level, that selling prices are based on it, that the nut and candy businesses are geared to it, and the employers cannot double or treble their wages unless they can raise their selling prices accordingly. The prices doubtless will be raised, in this and similar cases, and the consuming public will absorb the cost of the reform. But it will take a little time.

MEXICO TO PAY

It is reassuring to learn from Mexico City that the problem of land seizure is near settlement. The Mexican government is said to have agreed on the principle of annual payments over a given period. All that remains is to decide the amount.

For the present, the principle is more important than the principal. The latter is estimated at $10,000,000, covering farm lands taken from United States citizens at various times and places since 1927. If Mexico definitely promises that there shall be no confiscations in the future, it will be easy enough to settle for past seizures. After that will come the real tug of war, over the question of payment for oil properties expropriated by the Mexican government and valued variously from $100,000,000 to $500,000,000.

The sooner all such matters for dispute are ironed out, the better. We must live in peaceful cooperation with Mexico, not only for the sake of our two countries but for the maintenance of justice and friendly cooperation throughout the whole hemisphere. Because of conditions in Europe and Asia, this is more important now than it ever was before.

HONEST WITH THE BLIND

Eleven candy and news stands which have been operated by blind persons in public buildings for one year have proved the general honesty of one American city. A check of the year's operations by the business manager of the local Society for the Blind found that more than 1,500,000 sales had been made. In only one of these did anyone cheat the blind operator. In that case a lead quarter was used to pay for a purchase.

One "meanest person" in one and a half million speaks well for the general run of human kind. It is possible, too, that the lead quarter was handed over the counter by an unobservant man or woman who did not suspect its nature. Many people never look closely at their change, and wouldn't know at a glance anyhow whether a particular coin was good or not.

NOW THAT THE WEEK IS OVER

Fire Prevention Week is over. But it will be a major tragedy for the nation if we simply forget about it, as if it had never been. This year unprecedented effort was given to instructing the public on the hazards that breed fire and how they may be eliminated. And, according to reports, the public showed an increased appetite for information.

So far as you are concerned, every week should be fire prevention week. You have learned of the importance of periodically repairing your heating plant, of the dangers inherent in improper storage of inflammables, of the hazards of accumulations of old newspapers, clothes and other stuff that should go to the junkmen, of the chance you take when you amateurishly repair electric cords or put a penny behind a burned-out fuse.

If you're wise, you eliminated these hazards in your home during the week. Now, make a note in your memorandum book to keep up your own fire prevention campaign continuously.

Thousands of men gave their time to making Fire Prevention Week a success. Tens of thousands of dollars were spent, and the only hope of return is in the coinage of saved lives and property. All this was done in an attempt to protect you and your neighbors, to save your home from destruction, and your loved ones from the most horrible of deaths. Remember that, and determine to do your part to reduce avoidable fire waste in America.

Senator Carter Glass's secretary has written a biography for him, and they are looking for a title. Paul Mallon suggests "Non-shatterable Glass." It might be "Looking Through Glass," or, with Alice in Mind, "Through the Looking Glass."

It certainly was inconsiderate of Missouri police to arrest for speeding a citizen who was in a hurry to get home for a safety council meeting.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

By James W. Barton, M.D.

Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.
THE LIVER MAKES BILE

It is with difficulty that I prevent myself writing about the liver which is rightly called the 'king of the organs.' It is, as has been stated so often, the largest organ in the body, holds one quarter of the blood of the body, stores away sugar for future use, manufactures bile to digest fats, prevent constipation, kill harmful organisms and help make blood.

Notwithstanding that some bile must go down the intestine for purposes above mentioned, Nature considers bile so precious that when it has done its work of digesting foods in the first part of the small intestine, much of it is carried back turned into the liver to help form coloring and hemoglobin for the blood.

A recent editorial in the Journal of The American Medical Association speaks of the work done on bile by Dr. W. B. Hawkins and associates at the University of Rochester. These research workers found that when large amounts of bile were removed from the system, the hemoglobin or iron in the blood was reduced in amount, thus causing thin blood—anaemia.

The experiments showed that when the bile had been removed, the body was unable to absorb as much iron from the food eaten as when there was the normal or proper amount of bile in the system. The experiments showed further that the giving of bile by mouth could not make up for the loss of bile and the anaemia or thin blood still persisted.

The conclusions were:
A constant manufacture of bile and its absorption from the intestine is necessary for a normal rate of iron manufacture in the blood.
The lack of enough bile in the circulation cannot be made up by taking bile by mouth.
What can be done to keep plenty of bile circulating in the system?

The lesson for all of us is that bile will be manufactured, squeezed out of the liver, and more completely used if exercise is taken. Exercise, particularly bending exercises, increases the manufacture, circulation, and absorption of bile in the system with the result that with the eating of plenty of protein foods—meat, eggs, fish, cereals—there should always be plenty of iron available to keep the blood rich in haemoglobin.

Don't Marry the Man

The Characters

Kathleen Gregory goes West incognito to secure a right-of-way for The Golden Girl mine from MacDonald.
Donald MacDonald hates the Gregorys, suspects Kathleen's identity.
Bridget: Kathleen's companion.

Yesterday: Kathleen realizes she is in love with Donald, and that he loves Bridget.

Chapter 25

'Love To You Both'

THE days on the calendar marched along, each one bringing the closing of The Golden Girl nearer, and Kathleen could get nowhere with MacDonald when it came to discussing the mine.

In desperation she went to Balmly. "It's like watching something die and not being able to do anything," she told him, and sought to convey her feeling that the mine was an entity, a great being with drifts for arteries, the life of the miners pulsing through to the golden heart of it.

"Don't worry, lass," he advised, "there will be an hour when that last stone barrier between the two mines will melt away. It won't be hacked away by hate, it will be melted by love, not the love of a man for a maid, but a greater, impersonal love, the love of mankind."

Spring came overnight, an early spring that closed the short winter with the swift breath of a child's wind.

As though a blanket had been lifted, the painted mountains sprang up in radiant crimson, purple, green and white.

Along the canyons, willows and cottonwoods waved branches blood red with new life, promise of filling buds and fluted leaves.

On Balmly's terrace, tiny crocus and freesias scented the air; a pear tree in the garden burst into pale blossom. And the old shepherd dragged himself out from behind the stove to the sun, then frisked about like a puppy.

Then came the evening in April when the scented spring and the new moon seemed a desecration to Kathleen. She had taken Grandmother MacBride into Carsted for the final fitting of new teeth, a birthday gift from Beatrice Gregory.

Hands aching from their first long stretch of grasping a wheel, she put the car away and walked slowly towards the house.

Bridget was a white shadow on the veranda. She met Kathleen on the steps and it seemed to Kathleen that her friend was like a vestal taper, aglow with some shining spiritual substance.

"Darling, would you... could you find someone else to come and live with you?"

Kathleen stiffened for what she felt was coming. "No one like you, Bridget, but... of course, why?"

"Well," Bridget laughed and her voice was like the chime of tiny bells. "I'm about to become Mrs. MacDonald. We thought we'd wait—that is, I did. I wanted to tell you how I felt about it."

"You know the history of the strike," Balmly continued. "How MacDonald and MacGregor lived in the cabin they had built the previous fall; how they started out on the same day and struck gold on opposite sides of the ridge at about the same hour."

"MacGregor had the best of it by moments. He came up over the hill on a run. They had one dress shirt between them. He was going into the settlement to file claim and to claim his Emilia."

"He'd washed the shirt," Balmly said, "and had one arm in the shirt when MacDonald appeared."

"Before that time they had taken turns at wearing the courting shirt. Now they fought for it, a bitter fight that rent the shirt, and each wearing his half of the bloody garment, they started for the settlement."

Kathleen's eyes were immense pools of interest. "And my grandfather won, and MacDonald never forgave him. But Balmly, why didn't Old Angus forgive MacDonald, why did he feel such bitter hatred towards the man he'd bested?"

Balmly stirred restlessly. He walked to the edge of the terrace and stood listening. Kathleen waited. She could hear nothing but night murmurs, wind in the trees and the thrum of cicadas.

"There's no happiness in a war won by bloodshed, nor by a hard bargain. Donna Emilia was an obedient wife. She kept her word to the letter, but she had no love for Angus. And Angus, frustrated, believed she loved MacDonald."

Kathleen believed she knew how her grandfather must have suffered. She wondered, vaguely, if she was suffering for her grandfather's hard-turned bargain. If old Donald MacDonald in that fourth dimensional world was directing the fancy of his grandson, his enemy's granddaughter was paying.

Rip's Plans

"WE HAD such a late vacation this year," began Rip, "that I believe Willy Nilly has actually forgotten his birthday is drawing so close. In that way we'll be able to surprise him."

"I don't think we'd better call the beats back to remind them. They are so very hungry at this season and they must get plenty of food in advance to prepare for their winter's sleep. Willy Nilly will understand that it's not lack of devotion on their parts if they aren't back in time, nor if they come back without a single nut."

"They'll probably each bring one or two in those enormous bags and in that basket," chuckled Top Notch. "That will not be because they don't mean to bring back a lot, it's true. But their appetites will get the better of them."

"Well," continued Rip, "we mustn't be doing too much talking now, or Willy Nilly may look out of a window and wonder why we're not gathering up leaves when we said we were going to do so."

"My idea is that we work over the leaves and think and talk at the same time."

"We all think your idea is a good one," the Puddle Muddlers agreed.

"So they set to work at once and as they raked, and seemed to be busy only about the leaves they were making their plans, giving suggestions, talking over the celebration they would have on the last day of the week."

"Let's have a procession and play our musical instruments," barked Rip, as he pushed a great many leaves together with his feet.

"Let's hurry with this job and clean his automobile Two-Ways for him, as well as the trailer, as a birthday gift," suggested Sweet Face, as he added to Rip's pile of leaves.

"A good thought," barked Rip, "but you can make a pile of leaves by yourself. You mustn't follow me."

"I might dig up some weeds for him as a present," cawed Christopher Columbus Crow.

"A splendid idea!" barked Rip admiringly.

Two-day vacation last week while their teacher attended the teachers' conference at Albany. Miss Margaret Burnham of Shady accompanied Miss Hill.

The spaghetti supper served by the local 4-H Club last Tuesday at the church hall proved successful both socially and financially. One hundred suppers were served and a net profit of $10 was realized. The girls were each assigned some definite duty which they performed most efficiently. E. Bowers, county 4-H leader and family, were among those attending the supper.

Washington Daybook

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—The clash of policies and personalities certain to develop around the council table that seeks to harmonize AFL and CIO will make the partition of Czechoslovakia look like a game of pinocle by comparison.

Neither side has backed down an inch from those forlorn days of last fall when three negotiators from each side met day after day in the Willard hotel in downtown Washington. Their conference cracked up on shoals which have grown even larger since to interfere with reconciliation. Stripped of all parsley, the issue is: Whose outfit will rule, and what will be its policies?

They Split In 1935

IN 1935 when John L. Lewis, then an AFL vice president, formed the Committee for Industrial Organization, the moderate differing between leaders less crusty than Lewis and William Green, president of the federation. Already there were several industrial unions in AFL, notably Lewis' coal miners and David Dubinsky's Ladies Garment Workers.

But in the other mass industries, such as steel, automobiles, and tires, where Lewis wanted to organize the labor on a mass basis, were certain old-line craft unions. Green insisted they should be allowed to keep their separate identity apart from any mass union.

Lewis pulled nine industrial unions out of AFL with a million members, the bulk of them coal miners. The CIO quickly brought in or organized 23 more unions to a grand total of 32 and a membership of perhaps 3,800,000. And it swung actively into politics, in sharp violation of an old AFL credo.

Any joint commission such as suggested by Secretary of Labor Perkins would have many conflicts like that to settle.

To more than one astute observer, the thing looks insoluble, but there is a real peace ferment arising from the ranks of the workers themselves.

And lately, labor leaders have expressed real alarm over pending proposals for state and federal legislation to outlaw jurisdictional strikes and otherwise restrain union organizations. It is conceivable that together these influences might generate enough heat to bring about a welding.

Still A Fight For Control

AS THE price of reconciliation Lewis demands that all 32 unions be chartered in AFL before they begin negotiating terms of union jurisdiction. With his new strength he probably would have voting control in the merger. He then could decide jurisdictional disputes in favor of his own industrial unions. That would weaken the craft unions and leave many craft officials jobless.

Green refused, his proposed instead that only the old CIO unions be rechartered at once. That would assure Green a majority and leave Lewis' fledgling industrial unions to the mercies of the old line crafts. Lewis would not accept.

There are dozens of points of conflict. The Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America (CIO) is in the men's clothing field now occupied by the United Garment Workers of America (AFL).

Workers Want Peace

THE newly chartered AFL seafarers union is a bitter rival of the National Maritime union (CIO). Several AFL crafts claim jurisdiction in the oil and refinery industry where CIO insists on supremacy.

Any joint commission such as suggested by Secretary of Labor Perkins would have many conflicts like that to settle.

To more than one astute observer, the thing looks insoluble, but there is a real peace ferment arising from the ranks of the workers themselves.

And lately, labor leaders have expressed real alarm over pending proposals for state and federal legislation to outlaw jurisdictional strikes and otherwise restrain union organizations. It is conceivable that together these influences might generate enough heat to bring about a welding.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK — The five hour surge of "Hamlet" which asks the customers to be in their seats at 6:30 p. m. and remain until 11 has a 30-minute intermission around 8:30 so that folk can rush out and grab off a snack. However, with so many to be cared for in the nearby cafes you are apt to miss your pie or the first scene of the first post-dinner act, depending on which direction your sympathies lie. The waiters just can't take that many orders.

Therefore this hungry philosopher suggests: Have your dinner before six thirty and at intermission merely refresh yourself with a soda or a cup of coffee. Then there's no hurry, no worry, no impatient delay in gulping food, no snarling at harassed waiters, no sudden and violent cases of indigestion, no anything but a pleasant interlude and a breath of fresh air.

Incidentally, this 6:30 curtain call isn't exactly a novelty on Broadway. "Strange Interlude" began at 4:30 in the afternoon, with an hour's intermission for dinner and lasted through 11 complete acts. Remember?

THERE is a heart-throb in the sight of that blind musician who strolls past the theaters at night, playing his accordion. His name is Phil Goldfarb, and for awhile last season he enjoyed a brief hour of fame. Various nightclub operators gave him spots in their shows, but the opulent days for him are gone, and he is back at his old trade of mending the piano by.

Life Spans

Plants exceed animals in the length and shortness of their lives. Parrots may live longer than a century, elephants may live two centuries and apparently whales lives several centuries. The Sequoias of California outlive them by attaining an age of 60 centuries.

Regina, Sask. (AP)—John Cannon of this city is off on a water trip that will land him at Havana. Starting at Bismarck, N. D., his course follows western waterways into the Mississippi, thence to New Orleans, then down the Gulf coast to Key West.

From there, if he still thinks his collapsible boat seaworthy, he will cross the Caribbean to the Cuban capital.

Chicago—Motor accidents increase as the day draws to a close. And, the National Safety Council has discovered the same rule holds for the declining year.

Beginning in July and lasting well through the rest of the year, figures on traffic accidents rise. From September through December, too, gasoline consumption falls off. This indicates, practically, to the council, that seasonal hazards enter into the situation.

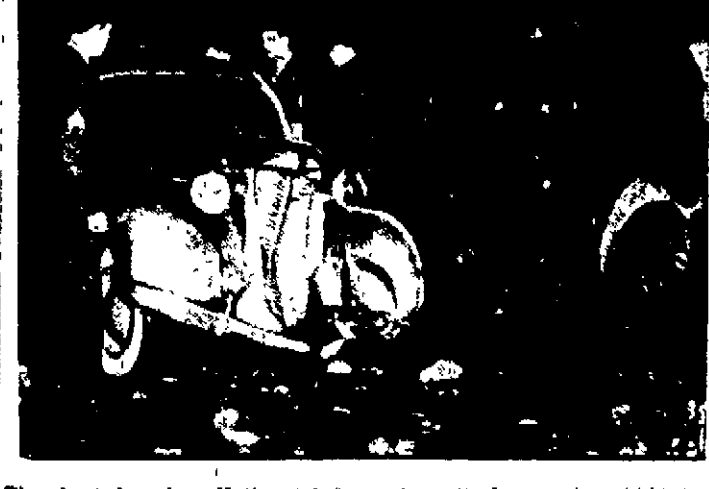

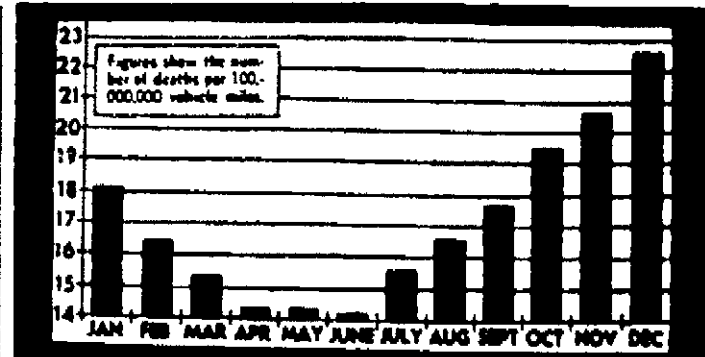

R. L. Forney, the council's chief statistician, and Sidney J. Williams, director of its public safety division, say the following conditions help explain the increase in accidents:

Since darkness falls earlier as autumn progresses, rush hour crowds begin to appear on the streets in dusk or dark instead of daylight. That makes driving more hazardous.

There's an imperceptible increase in city traffic. People come back to town from summer vacations, business picks up and as a result delivery wagons make more trips.

There are no figures available, but the researchers agree that week-end football games are an important factor in the upsurge of accidents. Thousands of football fans take to the road; they're a carefree lot and a lot of them take a drink or two.

Snow and icy weather have their effect. The first vision-obscuring snow flurries, the first icy spots on the pavement, take drivers un-ing bells and whistles to a certain extent. With windows closed, drivers do not always give the proper hand signals. Frosted windshields probably are a contributing cause of mishaps. Finally, closed cars that have defective exhaust systems sometimes accumulate poisonous carbon monoxide gas.

The researchers conclude with a list of hazards that, though minor, must be figured in the seasonal study. Car windows are kept closed in cold weather, as a result engine noise deadens warn-

Dewey Cites Huge 200 Million Debt

governor cannot afford to forget when he is making his political speeches."

"In five years an accumulated deficit of $97,000,000 was turned into a cash balance of $6,500,000. But of that $97,000,000 deficit, $86,000,000 was wiped out by bookkeeping devices, by moving ahead the date when certain taxes fell due and by postponing the payment of certain state obligations. In short, by niceties of bookkeeping."

"It has been my practice in public life," Dewey continued, "to know the facts when I speak. If there be an answer to the facts let's have it. If there is no answer let's not substitute charges of vilification."

Challenges Dewey

At Watertown Governor Lehman challenged his Republican gubernatorial opponent, Thomas E. Dewey, to outline an agricultural program for "the farm men and women of the state."

Headed northward toward Syracuse after speaking in Watertown last night, the governor asserted that he had made "a very full report" of "what I have done for agriculture in the last six years and in regard to what my future policy on agricultural problems will be."

"I am certain," Lehman said, "that the farm men and women of the state would be much interested to hear Mr. Dewey's farm program."

The governor's Water town speech related to the Democratic administration's agricultural "achievements" during the last six years and asked:

"What has the Republican party or its candidate offered that can guarantee the service to New York agriculture that my party and I have rendered during the past six years?"

Political Speeches Tonight

New York, Oct. 27 (AP)—Political speeches in the New York state campaign scheduled for radio broadcast tonight included:

8:00-8:30 p. m.—Thomas E. Dewey, at Elmira — WHAM (Hochester).

8:30-9:00 p. m.—Gov. Lehman, at Syracuse—WOR.

NEW PALTZ

New Paltz, Oct. 27.—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gerow accompanied by their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Gurnsey Quick and Mrs. Evelyn Elliott, of Newburgh enjoyed a motor trip through Connecticut, Massachusetts and to Albany and Catskill having dinner in Massachusetts and supper with Mr. and Mrs. Quick in Newburgh Sunday.

Elmer Ingraham is recovering from his recent illness.

The October meeting of the Seekers Class and Home Department of the Methodist Church was held in the church parlor Tuesday afternoon with the president presiding and opening with prayer. Mrs. Alvin Beatty had charge of the devotion which consisted of singing, scripture reading and a story and poem and an article entitled "My First Bible" by Margaret Sangster. Christmas boxes will again be sent to the Philippine Islands and Kentucky mountains. Mrs. Alfred H. Coons, Mrs. Harry Gerow, Mrs. Alvin Beatty and Mrs. Frank Elliott were appointed a committee to plan a social event. For the afternoon program Mrs. Elliott read an advertisement on "Bees" and "Honey," also an article on "Pet Superstitions." After which a social time followed with the president treating with candy and nuts. Those present were: President Mrs. Morgan Coutant, Mrs. Harry Oakley, Mrs. Harry Gerow, Mrs. Adam Koenig, Mrs. Emma Shkworth, Miss Lila Paris, Mrs. Alvin Beatty, Mrs. Frank Guinac, Mrs. John Christensen, Mrs. Oscar Sutherland, Mrs. Frank Elliott, Mrs. Abel Quick, Mrs. Webb Kniffen, Mrs. John McKinley, Mrs. Amos Ross, Mrs. Alfred H. Coons, Mrs. Minnie Duryea and Grace Elliott.

Mrs. Harry Gerow was a dinner guest of Mrs. Gurnsey Quick in Newburgh Wednesday.

Ray Cunningham, principal of the high school attended the first of a series of social evenings for Ralph Johnson's supervisory district at the home of Principal Edwin Crane at Walkkill, Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Ritter and daughter Jean and Miss Ann Broadway all of New Canaan, Conn., and Mrs. Walter A. Hall, of Stamford, Conn., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Van Sickle.

Work on the Routes 44 and 55 near here and Gardiner is nearly completed. The concrete has been poured and in about two weeks the road will be open to traffic, the re-alignment comprises about a mile and includes a new iron bridge over the Walkkill river. The new route begins near the hotel of Steve Harlow and bears north over the bridge and passing Tuttlestown about a quarter of a mile away, ending near the farm of John McIntosh at the top of the hill. This new route does away with bad approaches to the old bridge and many curves along the route.

Eunice Priem, regional organizer of the National Girl Scout Headquarters, spoke to the leaders and scout committees in New Paltz Thursday evening at the Old Fort on Huguenot street.

Robert Dean has returned to his duties at the DeWitt Clinton

Hotel, Albany, after visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Dean on the New Paltz-Highland road.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Shaw were Sunday guests of Harry Harp at Greenwood Lake.

The Rev. John W. Pollette is now at Everett, Mass.

Word has been received by friends of John Demski that he and his family have arrived at San Diego, Cal. They traveled by bus.

Miss Kathryn V. Cumisky is spending some time at the Nelson House, Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Bryn Dero entertained friends of John Demski of Poughkeepsie over the week-end.

During the past week-end Mr. and Mrs. Claude Aldorf celebrated their 41st wedding anniversary by taking a trip to Troy where they visited friends.

Divine's Followers Ask Right To Names

A list of strange names may be part of local election records if a current petition of Father Divine's followers filed in a New York court, the Associated Press reported today.
Skipper Love, Faithful Sparrow, Wonderful Wisdom and some 280 other followers of Harlem's Negro Evangelist, asked permission to vote under their adopted names.
The group said they had just as much right to change from John Jones for instance, to Peace Wonderful, as a person does to change legally an unpronounceable name to one more readily spoken.

Would Force Production White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Oct. 27 (AP)—F. C. Crawford, Cleveland industrialist, told investment bankers today that escape from "leftist" tendencies in government lay in "forcing production to the limit." This should be done, he told the annual convention of the Investment Bankers Association of America, "regardless of all regulation and obstruction until we produce enough wealth to start building a new degree of prosperity."
Charged With Murder
Brunswick, Ga., Oct. 27 (AP)—Two St. Simon's Island resort operators and two negroes were charged with murder today in the mysterious killing of Dr. Charles H. Lee, rector of historic Christ Church eight months ago. Police Chief J. E. Register announced the arrest of Harry J. Cole and W. M. Coter, middle-aged brothers, and two negroes, George Clayborn and Willie Looney.

1,500 Battle Fires
Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 27 (AP)—Fifteen hundred men battled 1,500 forest fires throughout the state today as conservation commission officials called an emergency conference to deal with "the most hazardous situation in two and a half years."
St. James Meeting
The Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies of St. James M. E. Church will meet in the church prior Friday afternoon, October 28, at 2:30. The devotion will be in charge of Mrs. Julia Coons and Mrs. O. B.

Smith will present a program on citizenship. Mortensen, Miss Martha Bloom and Mrs. S. D. Scudder, Sr.

Queen Gets Diamonds
London, Oct. 27 (AP)—Queen Elizabeth was bequeathed the diamonds of her mother, the Countess of Strathmore, in a will made today. Among other things, the countess left to her youngest daughter, the Queen, "my diamond snake bracelet and my yellow diamond cross." King George received two miniatures of his wife.
Little grass grows under the feet of the average grass widow.

Temple Emanuel Weekly Services

Services will be held at Temple Emanuel on Friday evening, October 28, at 7:45 o'clock. Rabbi Bloom will preach on "Is God a Dream." All are welcome.

The last day of the Sisterhood Rummage sale, held at 46 Broadway, takes place on Saturday, October 28.

On Saturday morning, October 29, at 10 o'clock, services conducted by the children will be held in the temple.

On Monday evening, October 31, the Men's Club of Temple Emanuel will meet at 8 p. m. in the Social Hall of the temple. Arthur B. Ewig will lead a discussion on the proposed New York state constitutional amendments.

The P. T. A. will also convene that Monday evening, October 31, at the home of Mrs. Harold Mandell, at 8:15 o'clock. An interesting speaker on conditions in Germany will be present.

On Wednesday evening, November 2 the adult class in the "Psychology of Religion" will be held at Rabbi Bloom's residence.

A mass meeting will be held on Thursday, November 3, for the purpose of celebrating Balfour Day and urging our government to take every possible step toward the protection of Jewish rights in Palestine. The meeting will be held at 8 p. m. in all likelihood non-sectarian. The mayor of the city of Kingston and several officials are expected to attend together with the local clergy.

Until further notice drivers tests will be given in Kingston on the Mondays and Tuesdays, from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Bracelets are an important part of the fall vogue for costume jewels. This one, made from a Schiaparelli design, is fashioned of four woven "gold" cords tipped with veined crystal leaves set in gold. It is worn with a deep brown velvet cocktail frock.

Rug Crocheted in Five Pieces

Household Arts by Alice Brooks

Shell Stitch in Three Colors Makes Durable Rug

Four strands of string or rags in three colors or in black, white, and a color worked in shell stitch, make this durable rug. It's crocheted in five parts—the center and four identical corners—and that makes it easy to handle. It's a lovely rug for bathroom or bedroom. Pattern 6213 contains instructions for making rug; illustrations of it and of stitches; materials needed; color schemes.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in coin to the Kingston Daily Freeman, Household Arts Dept., 259 W. 14th street, New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and PATTERN NUMBER.

"Festive Goodies—made with delicious Jack Frost"

HALLOWE'EN PUMPKIN TARTS

(Makes about six 4-inch tarts)

- Unbaked pastry 1/2 cup Jack Frost Dark Brown Sugar, firmly packed 1 teaspoon cinnamon 1/2 teaspoon ginger 1/2 teaspoon mace and nutmeg 1/2 cup milk
- 1 1/2 cups salt 1 1/2 cups canned or cooked, sieved pumpkin 1/2 cup evaporated milk or cream 2 eggs 1 1/2 cups milk
1. Line tart shells with pastry.
 2. Mix sugar, spices, and salt. Add pumpkin and evaporated milk. Blend well. (The rich, full flavor of Jack Frost Dark Brown Sugar gives a grand old-timey goodness to this pumpkin filling.)
 3. Mix eggs and milk (do not beat) and stir into pumpkin mixture. Pour into unbaked tart shells.
 4. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 10 minutes. Reduce heat to moderate (350° F.) and bake about 40 minutes longer. When filling is done, a knife blade inserted in center will come out clean.
 5. Garnish with pastry cut-outs, made as follows: Place a pattern, cut from paper, on pastry rolled about 1/8 inch thick. Cut around pattern with sharp knife. Place pastry cut-outs on baking sheet. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) about 10 minutes.

More Than 150 at 16th Meeting of Missionary Union of Ulster

An interesting talk on his work at the Mission of the Comanche Indians at Lawton, Okla., by the Rev. Robert Paul Chaat, and a challenging address by Mrs. Bradley J. Polensbee, who represented the boards of Foreign and Domestic Missions of the Reformed Church in America, featured the program of the 16th anniversary meeting of the Missionary Union of the Classis of Ulster.

The meeting was held in the Fair Street Reformed Church Wednesday afternoon, with an attendance of 150 or more, the capable leading officer being Mrs. Stephen W. Ryder of Flatbush, president of the Union.

Mrs. Ryder said that there would be an important meeting of the presidents and treasurers of the individual societies making up the Missionary Union, to be held in the First Reformed Church on November 9 at 2 p. m. The meeting will be for the purpose of considering and explaining a new financial plan which is being put forth by the Mission boards of the church. Mrs. Ryder said that it was very essential that all societies be represented at that meeting.

Stone Ridge in 1939

The president announced, also, that the annual meeting of the Union next year would be held in the church at Stone Ridge.

Mrs. Polensbee at the outset of her earnest talk congratulated those present on the apparent fact that the Classis of Ulster was "awake" but, she asked, what of the future? She found that the members of the Union had not only the task of carrying on the work of today, but of arousing the interest of the young people, that the work of the future might be carried on.

Mrs. Polensbee said that she had been pleased to hear reports of activities on the part of junior societies and suggested that one of the most potent forces in influencing young people was the attitude of those of the present generation.

The speaker referred to the deficit of some $8,000 that had been incurred as a result of the depression and called attention to some of the activities that would have to be sacrificed if the policy of retrenching to meet income were strictly adhered to—the denying of demands for education and of help in various quarters where it was vitally needed.

She spoke briefly of the proposed new plan, which among other features embodies a proposition setting goals for each society to reach and calling upon each one for at least a five per cent increase in contributions. As to the foreign field, Mrs.

Polensbee said that despite the war and the handicaps that naturally arose from it Christianity was advancing in the lands overseas.

Tells of Indian Work

The second speaker, the Rev. Robert Paul Chaat, is a full-blooded Comanche Indian, born on the Comanche Reservation in Oklahoma before that territory was thrown open to the Indians in 1901, neither of his parents being able to speak English. He was early given educational facilities, however, is an ordained minister of the Reformed Church, their first Indian minister and for 14 years has been working among his own people. He is in charge of the Comanche Mission at Lawton, Oklahoma.

In well chosen words Mr. Chaat told of the work of the church among his people. He said that there are over 200 different tribes of Indians in the United States, in all stages of advancement, but that changes had been rapid among the Comanches, where the church has been active for 33 years and three members of the tribe were in the Christian ministry, one of them being a son of the last Comanche chief.

Mr. Chaat said that during his stay in Kingston he had visited some of the points of historic interest and had tried to visualize conditions as they were here in colonial days, but had found it a ment made necessary in the work had been gained if they were forced into a life of idleness, through Christian teaching and influence, as he took his hearers to their old homes and becoming part of the conditions there. The speaker told of the work that was being done and the changes that had been wrought, church purposes until they could again secure a building of their own. This is one of the conditions that Mr. Chaat views as a handicap, since he feels that there

L'L ABNER

THE (Gulp) MATCH-MAKER!

By AL CAPP

HEM AND AMY

By Frank H. Beck

Christianity is no mere ornament or appendage. A man cannot wear it on Sunday only as if it were a top hat, and then, for the other six days, go a-wolfing through the world snapping at his competitors.

Every town has a prominent citizen who gambles on the stock market and looks down on a wicked neighbor who plays poker.

Guide--And that is a skyscraper. Wise Guy--Oh Yeah? Well, let's see it work!

The only friends a fellow loses when he goes broke are those not worth having.

"What's in a name?" gets a fitting answer this time. The colored man did odd jobs of hauling for which purpose he used as motive power a gigantic mule of venerable age, profound deliberation, and undaunted determination.

Negro--Dat mule am named "Public Service Corporation" Sub.

Friend--What on earth made you give him a name like that?

Negro--Well, Sub, jes' because dat am de mule nam for a mule like him. Dat ar mule kin stand mo' abuse an' go right on habbin' his own way dan any pusion yo ebbler see.

Our idea of a heartrending experience would be mother testifying in court against a man who was being tried for killing her daughter.

Read it or not--Orville Wright was in the air only 12 minutes on his first airplane flight.

Lecturer--Careful scientific measurements have shown that a bee can pull 300 times its own weight.

Listener--I have been more impressed with the malicious vigor of the bees' push!

The average man talks for two hours out of every twenty-four at the rate of 100 words a minute. He utters some 4,500,000 words a year. The authority doesn't say so, but we presume he is talking of single men.

Dentist--Where is that aching tooth?

Theatre Usher--Balcony, first row to the right.

Man's vaunted claim to ingenuity is now undergoing two supreme tests: how to create a peaceful world society and how to devise an original radio program.

The parson met Mose on the street inquiring: Minister--Well, how's your better half this morning?

Mose--She bettah, thanks, sub, but parson you is careless wit yo' fractions.

When you ask her dad's consent, be careful of your English! The rich young man approached the girl's father with some misgivings.

Young Man (nervously)--Er, I suppose sir, that you are aware I have been making advances to your daughter?

Father (patting him on the back)--Yes, and now what about her poor old dad?

Mother--Willie, I see your little sister has the smaller apple. Did you let her have her choice as I told you to?

Willie--Yes'm, I told her she could have the little one or none, and she took the little one.

HOLLYWOOD--Hadn't thought much about it, but strange things are happening to music in Hollywood.

What brought it up was my wandering into a recording stage today to watch some preliminary scoring for "The Wizard of Oz."

Judy Garland, Bert Lahr, Ray Bolger and Buddy Ebsen were doing a number called "Titterbug."

When the film is shot later, this will match with their progress through a scary, enchanted forest. The music is weird, naturally, and full of "effects"--but just how weird I hadn't realized until I saw the orchestra, Georgie Stoll conducting.

Most of the instruments were conventional, but that thing the man was beating with a xylophone stick was strange. It looked like nothing a musician would meet socially, much less play.

The answer: for an effect, so off the track that it couldn't be expressed in the orchestration, they had dismantled a small upright piano, muted all but three strings with cotton, and got what they wanted by beating those strings.

THE ocarinas--or "sweet potatoes"--were singing away, too, just as if they belonged there. They are practically accepted now--on recording stages anyway--because they provided the answer to a desired effect in "The Firefly." (The chipper little notes in the Donkey Segnate number, remember?)

Movie--The orchestra also has made at least one exception to the practically obsolete instrument called the "viola d'amore," antecedent of the violin. They found one to add authenticity to "Marie Antoinette"--and one of the musicians mastered it.

NOMINATED for the Glamour Boy of 1938: Leo Carroll as Morley's Ghost in "A Christmas Carol."

His face coated with a sticky grey paint, his body weighted by chains and account books symbolic of Morley's crotchety career on earth, Carroll is no sight to see before lunch. Or after, for that matter. But on the screen he'll look like a fairly respectable ghost.

His role for children: Reginald Owen is playing a Sargeant--at Lionel Barrymore's suggestion--when the studio wanted to hold the script for his own convalescence--and Terry Kilburn is doing Tiny Tim.

It's true, and not a press-agent's dream, that Lionel gave up this role he's played annually on the air for years, gave it up because he figured the world could use a picture like this, this very Christmas. Besides, Barrymore argued, it's an English role, and there was Reginald Owen, so why not?

Obligingly--if not through sheer sentiment--Metro is planning the film for Christmas week release.

KRIFFLEBUSH

Krippelbush, Oct. 27--Sunday school next Sunday at 1:30 p. m., William Schoonmaker, superintendent. Church services at 2:30 o'clock. The Rev. F. Baker will bring the message.

The Ladies' Aid Society will hold its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Leroy Osterhout, November 2.

A roast pork supper and Halloween party will be given in the Jr. O. U. A. M. hall, Monday evening, October 31 at 5:30 o'clock. There will be a grand dress parade. Prizes will be given for the funniest and most original costumes.

Teacher--Tommy, come up here and give me what you've got in your mouth.

Tommy--I wish I could--it's the toothache!

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Reward Goldsboro, N. C.--Walter P. Wrenn found a purse containing $70 and gave it to a woman in an automobile at his filling station who said she had lost it.

A man in the car handed Wrenn a nickel and said, "Go buy yourself a drink. I have found an honest man."

After the couple left, Wrenn asked one of his attendants if the man had paid for having his battery cleaned.

"No," the attendant replied. "He said he paid you."

Buffalo, N. Y.--By passing his safety first with high honors Boy Scout Charles Huff, 19, won the only merit badge he needed to become a second class scout.

Five minutes later he was struck by a car and suffered a fractured leg.

No Rule for Guidance Ogden, Utah--Arcelle C Stokes might have saved money by extending his research when he prepared a recently published booklet on "Traffic control."

Stokes said the booklet took 3 1/2 years to compile and "covered the entire field of vehicular traffic regulations except overtime parking."

Stokes, his car tagged by a traffic officer, forfeited $1 police court bond--for overparking.

No "Updo" for Her San Francisco--Marjorie Hillis, who wrote "Live Alone and Like It," has a low opinion of his hair styles.

"Life is too short for high hair," she said here. "Besides, it makes you look not a day over 80."

TILLSON

Tillson, Oct. 27--Reformed Church services: The Rev. I. P. Emerick, minister. Sabbath School 10 a. m. Worship service with sermon 11 o'clock.

Friends' Church: Sabbath School 10 a. m. Church service 11 o'clock. Saturday of this week the quarterly meeting of the Society of Friends will be held in the Friends' Church of Tillson. Meeting opens at 11 a. m. All are welcome.

Miss Inez Satterlee and Mrs. Mary E. Pratt of Kingston spent Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Walter Parades.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Keator and daughter, Mae, accompanied by Mrs. Keator's mother and sister, attended the organ recital and drill at West Point last Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Esther LaPlante of New York spent the week-end with her sisters, Mrs. Richard Demarest and Mrs. Charlotte Coates.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Christiana, Miss Maryemma Christiana and Donald McEvoy spent Sunday at Stuyvesant.

There will be no school Friday of this week as the teachers will be in attendance at the Teachers' Conference in New York.

The Rev. J. B. Steketee made a few calls in Tillson last Saturday.

Mrs. M. N. Logan of Poughkeepsie spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Parades.

Mrs. Charles Dewey has closed her house for the winter and has gone to Kingston as housekeeper at the Forst home.

HOME BUREAU

Kingston Unit The Kingston Unit of Home Bureau met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Vernon on Manor avenue for a lesson on "Understanding Each Other." The leader was Mrs. Clyde Hutton. Tea was served with Mrs. Ellen Tillson, pouring. Co-chairmen for the meeting were Mrs. Harry Yale and Mrs. Tillson. The following members were present:

Mrs. Emma Kiefer, Mrs. Rose Kelly, Mrs. Ellen Tillson, Mrs. Clyde Hutton, Mrs. Edward Rochford, Mrs. Harry Yale, Mrs. John Harris, Mrs. F. W. Gleisner, Mrs. E. Hollister, Mrs. Margaret Bertrand, Mrs. H. B. Seligman and Mrs. V. B. Hyatt. The next meeting will be held November 1 at which "The Care of the Hands" will be discussed at the home of Mrs. Gleisner, 61 Elmendorf street.

Workmen Find Wallet

Quincy, Ill. (AP)--Workmen repairing the exterior of a local hotel found a wallet on a ledge above a window. It contained papers showing it was lost by Ralph M. Wind of Springfield in 1930.

WOODSTOCK

Woodstock, Oct. 27--Mrs. Henry Lee McFee accompanied Mrs. Boyer Gonzales and son to Virginia last week. The Gonzales will go on to Texas, but Mrs. McFee will remain in Virginia.

Mrs. Doris Flemming will visit this week with her sister in White Plains. They will both leave later for a winter in California.

Mrs. Elizabeth Clough will visit this week-end with her daughter, Mary, who is a student at Middleburgh College in Vermont.

Miss Dolores Allen was hostess Monday evening to nearly 50 guests at a shower in honor of Miss Ruth Houst, who will be married Saturday to George Kelley of Kingston. The table was attractively decorated and a cake was provided by Mrs. W. Allen. Miss Houst received many

Ulster Classis

Ministers Meet

The ministers and other workers of the Reformed Churches of Ulster Classis assembled in the parlor of the First Dutch Church Wednesday afternoon to discuss church work with some of the denominational leaders.

The Rev. J. H. Murphy, D. D., president of the general synod of the Reformed Church, first explained that the purpose of the "With One Accord" movement of the denomination should not be misunderstood as a drive for funds; it was nothing more than a spiritual emphasis.

The Rev. Frederick Zimmerman, secretary of the board of domestic missions, spoke briefly on "The Task of the Church in America," emphasizing the need of further cooperation with other denominations. Although from illustrations he gave—of the single church organized at Boulder Dam and the Grand Coulee—great progress has been made from the so-called "good old days," the path of progress lies in still closer cooperation all over the field.

The Rev. John J. DeBoer, Ph. D., principal of Voorhees College, India, spoke on "The Task of the Church in Foreign Missions," and drew a vivid picture of the multitude of outcasts in India multiplying a new religion, since they are convinced that Hinduism is dead. In one area some 40,000 untouchables are asking for Christian teaching and baptism.

The Rev. George D. Hulst, D. D., president of the ministers' fund, of the Reformed Church, under the title "Social Justice," showed what the ministers' contributory pension fund is doing and can do in the full cooperation of the church.

The Rev. Raymond B. Drukker, D. D., secretary of the department of religious education and young people's work, described the difficult conditions surrounding the youth of our day and the need of helping them get grounded on a faith that will synchronize their religion with every-day life.

The Rev. Chester C. Chilton spoke for the committee on international justice and goodwill, in the interest of promoting peace. He gave examples of Christians, who went to the World War and lost their Christian character. He urged all Christians to face this question of war not "to save the world for democracy" but to save the world and the church for themselves, and the things for which the church stands.

Questions and discussions interspersed between the addresses made the afternoon meeting very much worth while for those who attended.

Daladier Foresees Pact With Nazis

Marcelle, Oct. 27 (AP).—Premier Daladier declared today his belief that France should achieve "loyal collaboration" with Germany and that France's future "resides in large part" in her overseas empire.

Addressing the national congress of his own Radical Socialist party, the premier strongly indicated a conviction that France's energies henceforth should find an outlet in her vast colonial possessions rather than in disputing leadership on the European continent with Germany.

"I insist on the fact that France is an empire," Daladier declared in a speech that aroused equally his desire for Franco-German accord and insistence on turning French policy from Europe to Africa and Asia.

He said, however, that the basis of French diplomacy would continue to be close cooperation with Britain, and lashed out at critics who had called the peace of Munich a French surrender to Germany.

He declared that if he had been faced by an ultimatum at Munich he would have called upon the French people to resist.

The Munich Pact, he asserted, was "an act of reason" that put an end to a crisis that had lasted 20 years.

Insurgents Repulsed

Honduras, France (at the Spanish frontier), Oct. 27 (AP).—Government military dispatches reported today that insurgent troops were repulsed in night-long efforts to break through lines on the Madrid front.

An outbreak of human sleeping sickness in Massachusetts has been traced to horses that die of encephalomyelitis, a similar ailment in horses.

SHOKAN

Shokan, Oct. 27.—Arnold Dickenson, of Poughkeepsie, was numbered among the business callers in the hub of the reservoir country recently.

Members of the Joseph Lacher family, of New York, were at their summer residence on the Louisa Thiel farm for the weekend.

Mrs. Catherine McKenny, of Boston, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Earl Blumhardt, of the state road. Mrs. McKenny, who is 84 years of age, has been here upon numerous occasions in the past.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wendt, Sr., who conduct a filling station and refreshment place on Route 28 during the summer months, have closed their store and home and returned to New York for the winter.

The first fall meeting of the local bridge club will take place next Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred Adelt.

The elder apple business has slowed down during the past few days, most of the dropped fruit having been picked and taken to the mills. The greater part of the better apples also has been harvested. Grant Every as usual had the largest crop in this section. The Kingston elder mills are still paying 20 cents a hundred, though accepting only sound apples for the sweet cider market.

Mrs. Gabriel Richard, of New York was a recent visitor to her Shokan country residence.

School trustee Louis Thiel has enclosed his truck patch and farmhouse yard with a new wire fencing.

Political activities in Olive on October 27, 1938, included a Democratic mass meeting at Olive branch. Music was furnished by the Shepley Band.

Lawrence Pasquale of Boston has been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Edmund. Mr. Pasquale's wife is a niece of Mrs. Edmund.

Great Interest in Railroads' Gains

New York, Oct. 27 (AP)—Stocks, aircrafts and rails tilted upward in today's stock market while most of the other groups experienced difficulties in overcoming profit taking handicaps.

Early gains running to a point of 50 were reduced around noon. There was a subsequent comeback and, near the final hour, quotations were not far from best levels of the day.

The ticker tape speeded up occasionally, but slow intervals were frequent. Transfers were at the rate of about 1,800,000 shares.

Selected rail loans still commanded purchasing power in the bond division. Commodities were narrowly mixed, as were foreign securities markets. The British pound weakened in terms of the dollar.

Among better acting stocks were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, International Harvester, Sears Roebuck, American Can, U. S. Gypsum, Celanese, and International Paper, Santa Fe and Great Northern.

Great interest in yesterday's business concerned the railroads, as it was estimated that the net operating income of the point for the day, closing at 24.87. Corporate bonds were steady. Total transactions were 1,700,000 shares.

Wheat was lower at Chicago. Hides were off three to ten points; cotton up one to four points. Rubber was seven to 14 points higher; sugar was off two points.

Quotations by Morgan Davis & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, 15 Broad street, New York city, branch office 48 Main street, R. B. Osterhout, manager.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

Saugerties, Oct. 27.—Mr. and Mrs. William Maxwell of Deposit, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter LaValle and daughter, of Poad Eddy, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Maxwell on Jane street.

A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Everett Smith of Ulster avenue in the Benedictine Hospital. Mother and son are under the care of Dr. McCaig.

The concrete foundation at the corner of Main street and Washington avenue has been completed and a booth will be erected for the village and will be occupied by the local police when on duty, protecting school children as they cross the street at this dangerous traffic point.

William Mullen of West Bridge street returned from a hunting trip in the Adirondacks and brought home a four-point deer.

Mrs. Alice Shoemaker and grandson of Pleasant Valley are visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Church on Second street.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Bradley of Syracuse are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Sickles on First street.

The Saugerties Lions Club are making plans for athletic activities for the boys during the winter months. The usual basketball games are expected and plans for other sports are being made as part of the program carried out by the local club.

The November meeting of the Maiden Parent-Teacher Association will be held Wednesday evening, November 2, at 7:30 o'clock in the school house. Principal Miller will address the meeting followed by the Thanksgiving program which has been arranged. At a recent meeting it was decided that all meetings hereafter will be held on the first Wednesday of each month in the evening and not some in the afternoon as last year. The following will have charge of the program committee, Miss Blanche Glinac; hospitality committee, Mrs. Albert Vanderbeck; publicity committee, Mrs. Ellsworth Smith; membership committee, Mrs. Percy Dederick.

The Girls Community Club will hold its annual Halloween dance at Bob Thornton's Grill Saturday evening, October 29.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church will hold its annual turkey supper in the church dining room Wednesday evening, November 2.

The annual Red Cross drive for membership will start on Armistice Day, Friday, November 11, in Ulster county.

On Monday evening, November 14, the Odd Fellow lodges of Ulster-Greene counties will hold a regional meeting with William H. Raymond Lodge of this village acting as host. A parade will start at 7:30 and the Rebekah lodges of both counties are invited to participate.

Stanley Goodman and Miss Alice Benton of this place motored to Westfield, Mass., on Sunday and called on friends and relatives.

Mrs. Emma Wilbur and daughter, Katherine, spent the past week-end visiting in Albany.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Whitaker

Local Death Record

At St. Peter's Church Friday morning at 1 o'clock a memorial Mass will be offered up for the late Joseph Shuler.

Mary Elizabeth, two months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Hallinan, of 238 Broadway, died Sunday in the Benedictine Hospital. Funeral services were held on Monday, with burial in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Isaac Lyons of Kripplush died at his home, Wednesday, aged 57 years. Surviving are five daughters, Mrs. Esther Pratt of Stone Ridge, Mrs. Elmer Wager of Kripplush, Mrs. George Schonger, Mrs. Fred Osterhout and Miss Frances Lyons of Kerhonkson; one son, Clyde of Kripplush; one sister, Mrs. Minnie Smith of Kripplush and two grandchildren. The funeral will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Fairview cemetery, Stone Ridge. Services will be conducted by the Rev. Frederick Baker of Stone Ridge. Relatives will be bearers.

Harvey W. Clancy was buried in the Woodstock Cemetery on Tuesday following funeral services held for him in the Phoenixia Methodist Church. Mr. Clancy, who was fatally wounded by Charles Ford, aged Phoenixia resident, was widely known throughout the county and hundreds of people attended his funeral. The services at the church and grave were conducted by the pastor, the Rev. S. Shuler, and the Rev. F. S. Dailey, of the Phoenixia Baptist Church. Throughout the time Mr. Clancy's body resided in the E. B. Gormley Funeral Home in Phoenixia, throngs of his friends came to pay their last mark of respect and to console his bereft widow and children. Dozens of beautiful floral tributes filled the room in which his body rested. Kingston Lodge B. P. O. E. No. 550, conducting its fraternal services at the funeral home on Monday evening as did the Phoenixia Lodge of the Knights of Pythias No. 258. Bearers were Joseph J. McGrath, Joseph Gordon, Frank Tyler, Ernest Smith, Raymond Johnson and Leo Diegan.

Charles W. Grant of 96 East Chester street died early this morning at the Kingston Hospital following a brief illness. Mr. Grant for many years was foreman in the boiler making shop of the Ulster & Delaware Railroad, but since the shops were closed here Mr. Grant had retired from active work. Mr. Grant was born in England in 1865 and had been in America for over 60 years, the past 33 years he had lived in Kingston, where he was well and favorably known. His wife, the former Mary Sickler, survives, in addition to three children, Mrs. Earl Christians of Oneonta, Mrs. George Mackey of Schenectady, and Linn Grant of Bloomington, Ill., also one sister, Mrs. Emily Lent, of Oneonta, and a brother, Thomas Grant, of Bloomington, Ill. Mr. Grant was a member of the Ponckhockie Congregational Church. Funeral services will be held from his late home on East Chester street, Monday afternoon at 2:30. Burial will be in the family plot in Montrose Cemetery.

The Rev. Columbanus Dwyer, chaplain of St. Joseph's Home, Palenville, died yesterday morning at the Benedictine Hospital. He was 82 years old.

Father Dwyer, who was born in Boston, Mass., following his ordination was associated with a number of colleges as a professor. He was a member of the third order of St. Francis.

The body was brought to the Keenan & Son mortuary in Saugerties. Funeral will be held Friday morning at the Franciscan Monastery, Catskill. He will be buried in the Franciscan plot in Calvary cemetery, Brooklyn.

Dies in Fall

Philadelphia, Oct. 27 (AP)—Coroner Charles H. Hensch said today an autopsy indicated that Betty Bonner Fell, who died in a 10-story fall from a Temple University building, committed suicide. He said the autopsy showed the girl drank some iodine before the plunge.

The number of farms in the South increased more than 400 per cent from 1860 to 1938, while acres in cultivation dropped from 194,296,000 to 188,542,000.

Poultrymen Hear Of Organization

The World Poultry Congress to be held at Cleveland, O., next June will make consumers more egg conscious, W. D. Termohlan, chief of the poultry section of the Agricultural Adjustment, of Washington, D. C., told members of the Mid-Hudson Co-operative G.L.F. Auction Inc. at a meeting in the Elk's Club last night.

One result of the congress, Mr. Termohlan declared, will be an added dignity to the poultry industry and another will be a new motivating force for organization of the egg industry in the state to better deal with problems of the poultrymen.

Government action designed to aid all branches of farming, the speaker said, are too often handicapped by lack of organization on the part of the groups for whom the aid is intended. It is regrettable, he declared, that the poultrymen have no organization of national scope to whose leaders the government might turn for advice and assistance.

The Seventh Annual World's Poultry Congress, he said, is being sponsored by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration largely because of a belief that the presence of the congress in this country would be an incentive for the poultrymen to organize effectively. Mr. Termohlan is also secretary-general in charge of the Poultry Congress.

It was announced by H. R. Waugh, secretary of the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets another speaker at the meeting, that the New York State quota for membership in the congress is 35,000.

The quota for the Kingston area, which includes Ulster, Sullivan, Orange, Putnam and Dutchess counties, is 1,500. New York State, Mr. Waugh said, will have unprecedented opportunity to benefit from the congress.

A report of the area Egg Auction showed that 23,575 cases of eggs were handled during the year. This figure is 11,000 under that of last year. The gross business for this year was set, however, at $190,630.

A new regulation was adopted by the group requiring all members to ship at least one case of eggs to the auction monthly and it was decided to mail checks weekly instead of bi-weekly as was previously done.

Directors elected for two years were John Miller of Ulster county, John Ronner of Dutchess county, and Joseph McLaughlin of Columbia county. Incumbent officers were retained. They are A. P. Kaplan, president; P. S. Phelps, vice president, and John Ronner, secretary-treasurer.

Following the business session a bill of entertainment was given and refreshments were served.

What to Say to Join The Magic Circle?

Good Vocabulary Smooths Way
When other guests get together in happy little groups, Jean's always left out.

Her tongue-tied stare when she's introduced, her boring "nices" and "awfuls," her trite slang and poor grammar really annoy people she'd like to be friendly with.

If Jean would only spruce up her vocabulary! She'd seem bright, vivid to that new man if she'd say, "What a glorious day! I wonder if you love this crisp autumn tang as much as I do."

That pleasantly chatting group would welcome her if she could speak colorfully of "the crackle of the fire," or "the queer little man who waddled down the street."

Silly to antagonize people with crude slang such as "guy" for man. Spice your talk with smooth forms of slang like "let's go places." And don't embarrass friends with errors such as "not to home," instead of "not at home."

Learn to talk correctly, delightfully with simple pointers from our 32-page booklet. Tells how to make your conversation sparkling and vivid, how to avoid errors in speech, fit your talk to the occasion.

Send 10c in coin for your COPY of HOW TO IMPROVE YOUR VOCABULARY to The Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Service, 635 Sixth Avenue, New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

Bad News for Jitterbugs

Detroit, Oct. 27 (AP)—The jitterbugs were warned today by Dr. Edward A. Ward, of Saginaw, Mich., that the Snee, Big Apple, Susie Q. and Truckin' are dances for athletes, not for lounge lizards. Dr. Ward, immediate past president of the American Osteopathic Association, said "these dances are violent exercise and require as much training as a good physical condition as tennis, basketball, swimming and golf." "The hysteria for swing music and the hopping, grinning dances that go with it will pay its adherents with thick ankles, broken, maladjusted feet, and an exhausted nervous system, unless they recognize its dangers," Dr. Ward told the Michigan Osteopathic Association.

Bride And Groom Feted

Monday evening a reception was given Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Thomas at the home of the recent bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Baker, 76 Henry street. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, married Saturday, are shown about to cut the wedding cake. Guests attending the reception were Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Baker, the Misses Eleanor Thomas, Dorothy Baker, Dorothy Dixon, Nathalie Ostrander, Dara Dulbols and Earl Baker, Ira Baker, Guy Baker and Raymond Dixon.

Program To Proceed Holy Name Dance

Plans have been completed for the program to proceed the dancing at the affair Friday evening sponsored by the Holy Name Society at St. Mary's Hall. Ted Riccoboni's orchestra will play for the dancing. John Finn, general chairman of the dance, announces that a feature of the evening will be a balloon dance. Those desiring to come in Halloween costume may do so.

At 8 o'clock a program will be given by a group of Paul Yocan's pupils. In addition Bernice and Elizabeth Tucker, twin sisters, will play a piano duet; Shirley Franz will give an accordion solo and William Houghtaling and George Keller will give a song duet. The half hour program by the Yocan pupils follows:

Ravel's Bolero—Miss Jane Gildersleeve, Mr. Yocan.
Dancing As You Like It—Miss Hilda Brown, Miss Muriel Ferraro.

Toe Dance Extraordinary—Miss Audrey Shultis.
Youthful Charm in Taps—Jane Markle, Charles Lowery, Jr.

La Rumba—The Janakis sisters, Irene, Agnes and Mary.
Masters Taps on Toe—Walter May, Jr.

"Ida" Schottische in taps—Misses Marianne Davis, Helen Kennedy, Jane Gildersleeve.
"Song of India"—Miss Janice Denike, mistress of ceremonies.

Straips Tap—Shirley and Marvin DeGraff.
The Yocan program will be accompanied by the regular studio accompanist, John Valentine.

School No. 5 Card Party

The Parent-Teacher Association of School No. 5 is planning to hold its annual card party in the school building on Friday evening, November 4, at 8 o'clock. There will be tables for both bridge and pinochle and refreshments will be served. The proceeds will be used for the Christmas fund of the organization. Parents and friends of the school and the general public are cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Paul Briggs is chairman of the committee arranging for the party and other members of the association serving on the committee are Mrs. Joseph Deegan, Mrs. George Dawkins, Mrs. LeRoy Brown, Mrs. Joseph Schor, Mrs. Harry Kaprielian and Mrs. Kenneth Lowe.

First Presbyterian Food Sale

The ladies of the First Presbyterian Church are holding a food sale on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Nelson R. Smith, Sr., at 35 Clinton avenue. A variety of homemade foods and baked goods will be available. Orders may be phoned to Mrs. Chester Baltz or Mrs. Lewis Shaw, who are in charge of the sale.

Former Justice Seeger Weds

Former Supreme Court Justice A. H. F. Seeger of Little Britain Road, Newburgh, well known in the Ninth Judicial District, and Mary R. Smith of Newburgh were married Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the bride. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Seth Craig, pastor of the Union Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Charles R. Hanford of Newburgh was matron of honor and former Judge C. D. E. Hasbrouck of this city attended Judge Seeger as best man. The couple will make their home at the Seeger residence.

Mrs. Seeger, a native of New York, is the daughter of the late Daniel Webster and Sarah Blaine Smith. She is a member of the Anniversary Concert Heard At St. Paul's

The second service in a series at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, which are being held in celebration of the tenth anniversary of the church was held Wednesday evening and was a complimentary concert with Miss Estelle Rogers, soprano, of Albany, and Miss Helen Sheldon, harpist, of this city, the artists. Because the program was given in the church there was no applause after the numbers but comments of universal praise were heard after the program. Herman La Tour was in charge of the entire program.

The soloists were assisted by the combined choirs of the Church of the Comforter, the Wurts Street Baptist Church and St. Paul's Church, who were also directed by Mr. La Tour. The choruses sang, "Hark! Hark! My Soul" by Shelley, and "Saviour When Night Involves the Skies" by Shelley and "The Radiant Morn Hath Passed Away" by Woodward.

Miss Rogers' numbers included "Great Peace Have They" by Rogers, "Happy Song" by del Riego, "Thou Art the Night Wind," the Japanese song by Harvey Gaul, and "My Lover is a Weaver" by Hildach. "Carissima" by Penn, "Love Has Wings" by Rogers and "Memory" by Ganz. As her final group she gave "Iris" by Daniel Wolf, "Love's in My Heart" by Woodman and the Bach-Gounod arrangement of the "Ave Maria."

Miss Sheldon's numbers included "Minuet" by Rameau, Chopin's "Prelude in C Minor" and "Mazurka" by Schuecker. For her second group she played "The Fountain" by Hasselmann, "Music Box" by Poentitz and "Dance Oriental" by Candy. Miss Sheldon's concluding numbers were "Contemplation" by Renle and "Annie Laurie" arranged by Toulmin.

The anniversary services will close this evening with a special rededication service at 8 o'clock at which the Rev. Dr. Burgess, president of the United Lutheran Synod of New York will be the speaker.

Christadelphian Party Tonight

This evening at 7:30 the annual Halloween party and dance will be held by the Christadelphian Society of the Elmendorf Presbyterian Church in the Ramsey Memorial Hall. A very nominal admission charge will be collected to defray expenses.

Games of various sorts will be the first feature with Mrs. Robert Lane in charge. The popular scavenger hunt and treasure hunt will follow under the supervision of Donald Van Gaasbeck. From 8:30 o'clock dancing will be enjoyed and refreshments will conclude the evening's entertainment. The committee composed of Alma Burger, Dorothy Kopf, Donald Van Gaasbeck and Irwin Thomas have planned a style of night club and tables have been erected along the hall to imitate such a place. At the front door a person will be stationed to greet the guests and from there they will be directed to their tables with reservation slips.

Alumnae Entertain Nurses

The fall formal dance, given by the Alumnae Association of the Kingston Hospital School of Nursing attracted approximately 100 couples last evening at the Kingston Hotel. The dance was held in honor of the graduating class of the hospital. Roger Baer's orchestra furnished music for the dancing. Arrangements were in charge of Miss Helen Shadler and her committee of Miss Florence Schussler, Miss Florence Sheeley and Miss Vera Spall. Guests were received by Miss Almora Porter, Miss Dolores Boyle, Mrs. Charles Whitaker and Mr. William K. Gregory.

During the evening the group was entertained by Miss Jean Molyneux who played two accordion solos. Daniel Lucente did a tap number and two acrobatic dances were given by Blossom Barnett.

Atharhacton Sees Early Papers

The members of the Atharhacton Club met Wednesday afternoon at the State Historical Building and Senate House to study a number of early Ulster county papers. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. William Kingman, who called attention to the more interesting and unusual features. Afterward the members adjourned to The Huntington where Mrs. Everett Fessenden, in the absence of her sister, read a paper on "Early Ulster County Newspapers." She discussed newspapers from the earliest published in the county, "The New York Packet," mentioning that during the civil war several local papers were being published. Mrs. Fessenden told in detail of the famous issue of the Ulster Gazette which carried the notice of Washington's death. Mrs. Kingman also told of finding what she believed to be the first newsboy's greeting printed in this county which appeared in the January 1, 1796 issue of "The Rising Sun" and was written by the editor. The club will meet next week at the home of Mrs. Harold F. King on Fair street.

Trinity M. E. Turkey Dinner

The Ladies Aid Society of Trinity M. E. Church are preparing for a goodly number of people to attend its annual turkey dinner and fair to be held Wednesday, November 2. A sales table and "pantry shelf" will have various practical articles and home made jellies and food for sale under the chairmanship of Mrs. Monroe Burger. There will also be a home made candy table under the chairmanship of Miss Mary Neal and Mrs. Edna Jones. Mrs. Wesley Gregory has a corps of workers busy with beautifying the dining room and tables. The ladies are reminded again of the return of the turkey cards which the dinner committee, under the leadership of the president, Mrs. Henry Willmot, and Mrs. Henry Elledge will greatly appreciate. Dinner will be served from 5 o'clock on. Contributions of candy and articles for the sales table will be appreciated by the ladies in charge.

Baraca Cafeteria Supper

The men's Baraca class of the Wurts Street Baptist Church will hold a cafeteria supper Tuesday evening, November 1. Serving will start at 6 o'clock. The men are known throughout the city for the splendid suppers they serve.

Emanon Club Meets

Mrs. Henry Battenfeld was hostess Wednesday afternoon to the Emanon Club at her home in Hurley. Nine members and two guests were present. The guests were Mrs. C. Mac Adams of Hempstead, L. I., who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Bowden Gordon of Hurley, and Mrs. W. R. Cliffe of Staten Island, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Westles Ten Eyck.

Bradford-Rafferty

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rafferty of German street announce the marriage of their daughter, Eleanor, to James Bradford of Connelly on Saturday, October 22. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William Kennedy in the chapel of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church. Mary Rafferty and John Woods were the attendants.

Host On Fifth Birthday

Billy, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Burgher, Sr., of 23 Brown avenue, was host at a party in honor of his fifth birthday last Saturday afternoon. Those who attended the party are shown in the above picture, left to right, in the first row: Betty Freiligh, Billy Burgher, Don Lifer and Donald DeKoskie. In the second row in the same order are Joan Kowski, Bruce Spader, Jacqueline Huestis and Billy DeKoskie. In the top row, left to right, are Joseph McNearney, Walter Baschnegal, Jack Kowski and Gus Schufelt.

At U. C. T. Banquet Held Here

16th Anniversary Procession

The 16th anniversary celebration commemorating the opening of the White Eagle Hall on Delaware avenue, was held last Sunday evening. The hall was built and is still the possession of the Sacred Heart of Jesus and Mary Society. Following high Mass at the Immaculate Conception Church, members of the society paraded up Delaware avenue to the hall for the anniversary banquet and dance.

Hostess at Luncheon

Mrs. Edward Remmert of Manor avenue was hostess at luncheon Wednesday at the House and Garden, Hurley, in honor of Mrs. Bradley J. Folsenbeck of Flushing, L. I. Mrs. Remmert's other guests were Mrs. Joseph Fawcett, Mrs. Chester B. Van Gassbeck and Mrs. Fred Kiefer.

Business Girls Enjoy Party

Business girls of the Y. W. C. A. discarded their formal street attire at the regular supper meeting Wednesday for colorful costumes and enjoyed a hilarious Halloween party with games appropriate for the occasion. Approximately 45 members and guests were present for the social evening which was arranged by Miss Katherine Millard, Miss Elsie Macgee and Miss Ruth Bell. Plans are under way for entertaining the Y. W. C. A. Business Girls of Newburgh on November 15. The speaker at the meeting next week will be Walter T. Tremper who will continue the series of talks on the practical side of life by discussing investments.

57th Anniversary Of Their Wedding

The celebration of 57 years of wedded life can be classed among the noteworthy events, especially in these days. Such a happy occasion is being observed today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson D. Elmendorf, 79 O'Neil street, who were married at Olive Bridge October 27, 1881, by the Rev. Clark Wright, pastor of the Methodist Church at Tongore, the bride being the former Cora L. Bishop.

Following their marriage and until the property was taken over by the city of New York for water supply purposes, Mr. and Mrs. Elmendorf made their home on the Elmendorf homestead farm at Brown Station. The Elmendorf farm consisted of 365 acres and included two large wood lots and a saw mill. It was the largest farm in the reservoir section taken over by the city.

After leaving the town of Olive Mr. and Mrs. Elmendorf removed to Kingston where they have since made their home. The bride and groom of 57 years ago, the former today 78 years of age and the latter 84, are both in good health and able to attend to their usual duties. Mr. Elmendorf oversees the several properties he owns in the city and does whatever may be needed in the way of carpenter work.

Governor Orders Newburgh Leaders To Meet Monday

The City of Newburgh are representable and should be thoroughly investigated.
It is not our desire or wish to be presumptuous or to overstep our duty, but we do believe that it is incumbent upon us to present to you these facts and to recommend a thorough investigation of the conditions and all the administrative officers, the Police Department and such other persons as you or your investigators deem proper.
Respectfully yours,
FOULKES O. E. KNUDSON, Foreman.
MERVIN L. LANE,
Secretary.

Oct. 6, 1938.
The letter, which was released
this morning by Raymond P.
Wheatley, assistant U. S. Attorney in charge of the Newburgh investigation, further alleges that the police officers and city officials, "without exception," knew nothing of the operation of the still, "or the existence of vice and gambling conditions which were rampant on a large scale until released by federal officers."

"No Great Surprise"
The Newburgh News in commenting on the letter says:
"The allegations contained in the communication came as no great surprise to many Newburghers who for the past few months had been gossiping about public officials called to New York to testify before the federal grand jury."

"The reference to vice and gambling, it was indicated, recalled the wholesale raid of several houses on Water and Front streets a few years ago by G-Men.
"About 40 men and women were seized in that raid, and when they were sentenced Federal Judge Bondy criticized the Newburgh Police Department for failing to conduct similar raids previously."

"The jurist contended that G-Men should not devote time to investigate and arrest when their energies were needed for trading kidnappers."

"The present communication contained an inference that Newburgh police officers and city officials either by their lack of knowledge or refusal to talk before the grand jury, declined to cooperate in the investigation."
"Emphasis was laid on the fact that the hat shop still was operating within about 600 feet of the City Hall and Police Headquarters."

"The grand jury's letter, it was noted, was dated October 6, which meant that the group reached its decision to request the investigation more than two weeks before it handed up the 45 conspiracy indictments.
"Present city officials as well as several of those who held office during the time covered by the investigation of the federal grand jury today withheld comment on the jury's recommendation to Governor Lehman that conditions in the city be investigated."

"Police Chief Fred G. Brown, named by Assistant District Attorney Raymond P. Wheatley as being among those who testified before the jury, had no statement to make, pointing out that he had not seen the letter and had had no opportunity to study its contents."
"I wouldn't care to comment without studying the letter to the governor," Chief Brown declared.
"Mayor James D. Tweed told a reporter that 'I have nothing to say about the situation except that I was not mayor during the time covered by the investigation.' The mayor pointed out that he completed his first term on December 31, 1931, and did not return to office until January 1, 1936."

Anderson Not Called
"City Manager Renwick Anderson was not called before the jury for he was not in office during the years named. 'Since I was not in office at the time and was not called before the grand jury there is nothing for me to say,' he stated.
"Neither Major W. Johnston McKay nor William J. Blake, former city managers, would comment although both confirmed the report that they had testified before the grand jury.
"Major McKay added that he was not city manager in 1933, the year in which the still referred to by the jury as being 'within 600 feet of city hall and police headquarters,' was allegedly in operation.
"Mr. Wheatley was apparently not aware of that until I told him when I went to New York to go before the jury," Major McKay declared.
"He pointed that out to the jury when one of the jurors asked me how I could be unaware of a still being operated so close to city hall. I knew nothing about the still and could give the jury no information."
"The major referred to the records which show that he served as city manager from January 5, 1926, to December 31, 1924, and again from September 23, 1925, to May 15, 1932.
"Mr. Blake said: 'I was called before the grand jury and testified but I have no comment to make.'
"Joseph A. Fogarty, another former city manager, was not in his office this morning and could not be located for comment on the situation."

Social Party
The Ladies' Auxiliary of Union Hose will hold a social party tonight in the engine house on East Union street. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Mistook Steam for Smoke
Steam from an expansion tank arising from the roof of a house at 51 Lafayette avenue caused a neighbor to send in an alarm to the Willwyck station this morning. The firemen responded with both pieces of apparatus, only to find that there was no need for their services.

Jersey City Under Federal Orders

Neither did the decision deal with the prayer for relief from interference with picketing, union organization and other rights under the National Labor Relations Act. Judge Clark said he already had upheld these rights in an injunction issued in another case.
Judge Clark said mention of Communism was not needed in the decision because it was unnecessary to "speak of the particular allergy with which the people of Jersey City were portrayed as afflicted, because the proof of the idea allegedly giving rise to that condition rested on double and triple hearsay."
The judge said his "avoidance of the word Communist was in pursuance of his unwillingness to give the Communists any further advertising."

No Fall Quotation.
The decision—on file in the U.
S. District Court Clerk's office but not yet available for full quotation—restrains Mayor Hague, state Democratic leader and vice-chairman of the National Democratic Committee, and his fellow officials of New Jersey's second largest city in four particulars.
It forbids:
Any interference with the plaintiffs' right to be in and go about Jersey City, and so prevents any further deportations.
Any interference with the plaintiffs' right to distribute the admittedly innocuous leaflets and circulars which they had been distributing.
Any interference with the plaintiffs' right to carry the admittedly innocuous placards which they had been carrying.
Any interference with the plaintiffs' right to speak in the public parks for which they sought permits. (The decision did not deal with arguments by the plaintiffs that they had a right to hold meetings and make speeches on the streets.)

In its particular application to deportations, Judge Clark said his decision could be summarized thus:
The power of deportation exists in the nation alone and can be exercised only against aliens.
It is not, therefore, a right pertaining to states, and much less to cities. Even as to aliens, some sort of a hearing must be held.
People cannot be deported from Jersey City by the fiat of an administrative officer, police or otherwise.
The decision did not upset Jersey City's ordinance requiring a police permit for a public meeting. It did, however, "require a restraint of its application to the plaintiffs."

Constipated? Then Ask Yourself This Question!
If constipation has you bogged down so you feel tired, sick, irritable, and out of your usual yourself a question!
What have you had to eat lately? Just meat, bread, eggs, potatoes? No surprise you're constipated! The chances are you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food.
It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.
If this is what you lack, your diet is crap, crunchy, Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast. It contains both "bulk" and the great intestinal tonic, vitamin B. And it's not a drug, not a medicine.
Eat All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water, and take a new lease on life! All-Bran is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

Dr. Cantine 50th Anniversary Rites

others, but what the mission had done for those back home.
He spoke of the sacrifices that had been made and the money that had been spent in the light of their value to those who had sacrificed and given the gifts. He said, "the prime object of work in God's vineyard is not the win-yard, but us," and asked, "what has been the profit to you, spiritually, of the work of these past fifty years?"
Outside of the building of schools and hospitals and the gradual spread of Christian teachings, Dr. Cantine said that the great value of the work in Arabia was the "value of witnessing for Christ."

Dr. Cantine made some brief references to the difficulties they encountered in the early years of their work in Arabia, the years spent in searching out the country and trying to locate the lines of least resistance for carrying on the work, the ways in which they were blocked and their bitter disappointment when, after many years of effort they could see so little done where at the start they had expected to accomplish so much.

Synod President's Address
The closing speaker of the evening was the Rev. Dr. J. Harvey Murphy of Hudson, president of general synod. Dr. Murphy, who has been with other members of a "travel team" covering the numerous areas of the Ickesmoor Church throughout the United States during recent weeks, made a strong appeal for vital Christian living, and spoke on what he believed to be the immediate needs of the church.

"We are living in critical times," he said; "the United States is not a Christian nation.
We are living in a pagan world.
Many ignore the Church of Christ.
Millions have decided they would get along without God. Large groups have attempted to run things themselves. The picture of the world today shows the results of their acts."
Despite all this the speaker held that "there is nothing wrong with the world that cannot be cured by the principles of Jesus Christ," adding "the world today is waiting for a demonstration that the Christian life can be lived," its declared that Christianity did not consist of an affirmation of certain beliefs, but in translating Christian principles into life.
In closing Dr. Murphy discussed four things that the church must do in order to minister to the needs of the world—it must be true to the vision of its responsibilities; it needs again to be enthusiastic about Jesus; it must put the emphasis where it is going to count most, on the boys and girls of from 14 to 18; it must reemphasize the cross.
Discussing the first point, he said: "We have been playing in matters of religion; we have had everything in church but the religion of Jesus Christ; there is nothing happening on the inside of the church to attract the multitude."

Riots at Newark
Newark, Oct. 27 (AP)—One hundred policemen used their night sticks early today to halt disorders as several hundred persons attacked uniformed members of the German-American Volksbund when they attempted to leave a meeting. Five men were arrested.
Police ordered the bund members back into the hall and charged into the crowd. They drove them back, and then escorted the Nazi out of the hall in two's to waiting automobiles.

Anything... Can't Breathe
Are you, too, a slave to the constant drip, drip, drip of sticky mucus trickling down your throat due to cold? Is it spoiling your enjoyment of life? Is it offensive choking making you feel miserable all over? Do you wake up in the morning with your nose and throat choked with sticky phlegm? Get some Mentholatum. This is a comforting balm containing menthol, camphor, and eucalypti. Put a little in each nostril and rub it on the throat and chest. Happy relief quickly follows. Mentholatum helps prevent the gathering of mucus, while leaving the breathing passages and keeps them free. Its soothing vapors spread through the nose and throat reducing the irritation and helping Nature to restore a healthier condition. Ask your druggist for Mentholatum today. In jar or at the Chambers of Hon. Frederick

G. Traver in the County Courthouse Kingston, N. Y., on the 26th day of October, 1938.
PRESENT: HON. FREDERICK G.
TRAVER, County Judge.
COUNTY COURT, ULSTER COUNTY
In the Matter of the Application of ROSE FABIANO also known as Rose Bruno, mother, for leave to change the name of CHARLES FRAN-CESCO BRUNO, an infant.
On reading and filing the petition of Rose FABIANO, also known as Rose Bruno, verified the 25th day of October, 1938, praying for leave to change the name of CHARLES FRANCESCO BRUNO, an infant, to that of CHARLES JOSEPH FABIANO, and it appearing from said petition and the court being satisfied that there is no reason objecting to the change of the name proposed and that the interests of the infant will be substantially promoted by the same.
THEREFORE, on motion of Raymond J. Mine, attorney for the said petitioner, it is ORDERED, that the said Charles Francisco Bruno be and he hereby is authorized to assume the name of CHARLES JOSEPH FABIANO in all places and stead of his present name, on the 25 day of November, 1938, upon his complying with the provisions of Article 6 of the petitioner cause this order and the papers upon which it was granted to be filed in the office of the clerk of the County of Ulster, within 10 days from the date hereof, and that, within 10 days from the date hereof, the said Charles Joseph Fabiano shall cause to be published in the date of the entry of the said order, the petitioner cause a copy thereof to be published in the Kingston Daily Freeman, and within 40 days after the making of this order, proof of such publication by affidavit be filed and recorded in the office of the clerk of the County of Ulster, and after such requirements are complied with, the said infant, Charles Francisco Bruno, shall no longer be known as and by the name of CHARLES FRANCESCO BRUNO, but shall be known as and by the name of CHARLES JOSEPH FABIANO, and he is hereby authorized to assume, and by no other name.

Foreign Reaction To F.D.R. Speech

Berlin, Oct. 27 (AP)—The controlled German press today sharply criticized President Roosevelt's address warning against "peace by fear" and his mention of "disposition all over the world of millions of helpless and persecuted wanderers."

The Hamburger Fremdenblatt advised him to "remember the Indians when sobbing about the Jew."

The Berlin Lokalanzeiger said his mention of foreign armaments and their purposes was merely an apology for America's own armament program.

Rome, Oct. 27 (AP)—The Fascist newspaper La Tribuna today said President Roosevelt's speech of last night "displays well into the picture of contemporary democratic, Jewish and Masonic activity."

The newspaper said the speech showed that Jews constituted the "real reason rather than the pretext" which impels democratic governments to arm themselves to the point of congestion.

"The oratorical demonstration of the American president does not surprise us," La Tribuna said. "It contributes, however, to a better definition of the positions and tendencies in this grave moment of world history and consequently to better clarification of the action of all those men and nations who are fighting for the triumph of justice."

La Tribuna was the only paper which dealt editorially with the President's speech.

Great Britain

London, Oct. 27 (AP)—President Roosevelt's speech against "peace by fear" appeared today to offer new ammunition at a strategic time for critics of maintaining peace through concessions to dictators.

These critics saw the President's broadcast last night as an implied slap at the peace of Munich, which became the direct issue in a parliamentary by-election at Oxford today.

Crowd Sees Girl Start Long Sleep

A crowd estimated by police and President Kaplan of the Downtown Business Men's Association as one of the largest gatherings since that arrival of Santa Claus on the Rinebeck ferry eight years ago, that went down as a red letter date in the downtown business district history, turned out last night to see Miss Carol Starr hypnotized in the Kaplan Furniture Co. window at 14 East Strand, by Hanyan, "King of the Ice."

Scheduled for 7:30 p. m., the feat, heralded by an announcement in The Freeman, drew approximately 1,000 men, women and children to the Kaplan store at a much earlier hour and extra police were necessarily detailed to direct traffic and preserve order during the eager spectators, as they awaited Hanyan and his subject who were tardy in arriving.

It took less than 10 minutes for the hypnotist, featured by Robert Ripley, to put Miss Starr under the spell of deep sleep as she sat on a chair with the crowd watching the exhibition. As she passed into the slumber, Hanyan and his assistants put her to bed, announcing that she would remain there in deep sleep until tonight at 8 o'clock (24 hours) when she will be awakened and fed.

All night spectators called to see whether the girl was still asleep, some returning several times until an early hour this morning to satisfy their curiosity that Miss Starr remained in bed.

Another crowd is expected tonight to see Miss Starr awakened by Hanyan and fed before she is removed to Huling's barn where another hypnotic feat will be performed. She will also appear at the boxing bouts in the municipal auditorium tomorrow night.

Olsen Divorce Rumored

New York, Oct. 27 (AP)—One of Broadway's best-known romances, that of Ethel Shutta, blonde singing star, and George Olsen, orchestra leader, appeared today to be headed for an ending. Miss Shutta said that within the next few weeks she would file suit for divorce, charging desertion, but that the parting was amicable and that an agreement had been reached on all arrangements, including divided custody of their two children, Charles and George, Jr. The Olsens have been married 12 years. "It's just a case of our not being able to get along together," Miss Shutta said.

Employees Return

Chicago, Oct. 27 (AP)—Striking employees of the Postal Telegraph Company returned to their jobs today under a temporary agreement reducing the work week from 48 hours to 46 and providing for extra overtime pay. The nine-hour strike ended shortly after midnight today. Frank B. Powers, president of the Commercial Telegraphers Union, said the agreement would be effective until the conclusion of negotiations which will start by November 15.

Parties for Pranksters on Hallow'e'en

There's not a month in the year when it's easier to entertain than in October—and Hallow'e'en makes a fitting occasion.

SPICY SUGAR DOUGHNUTS

Progressive parties are always fun, especially for adults. One hostess might have a Witch's Den; another a Ghost's Retreat, and a third a Haunted House—each home being decorated to carry out the idea.

True Hallow'e'en refreshments are pumpkin pie, doughnuts, cider, popcorn and apples. However, late evening refreshments after an active party may need to be heartier. Chili con carne, baked beans and brown bread, sauerkraut and wieners, or chow mein are all excellent foods to serve. Buy the packaged ready-to-serve foods, of course, and serve coffee or beer or cider with them. Doughnuts or pumpkin pie will top off the meal if you really feel that it must be topped.

PINEAPPLE MINT CREAM

1 envelope plain unflavored gelatin, 1 cup cold water, 1 1/2 cups crushed pineapple, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/2 cup granulated sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 3 drops peppermint extract and green food coloring.

Soften gelatin in cold water. Dissolve over boiling water and blend with remaining ingredients. Cool and when mixture begins to congeal, fold in 1 1/2 cups cream, whipped. Chill and serve.

QUICK DOUGHNUTS

3 cups pancake flour, 2/3 cup sugar, 3 teaspoons cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 cup milk, 1 egg, beaten and 1 tablespoon melted butter.

Mix all dry ingredients. Combine milk, egg and butter and mix with dry ingredients, stirring well. Toss dough onto floured board and roll lightly to 1/4 inch thickness. Cut with doughnut cutter and fry in deep fat (360°F). Drain on absorbent paper. 24 doughnuts.

SPICY SUGAR DOUGHNUTS*

4 cups sifted flour, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 2 tablespoons triple creamed shortening, 1/2 cup sugar, 4 egg yolks, beaten, or 2 eggs and 1 egg yolk, 1 cup thick sour milk.

Sift together flour, spices, salt, soda and cream of tartar. Cream shortening and sugar; add egg yolks and beat until mixture is light. Add milk and sifted dry ingredients, mixing thoroughly until smooth. With as little handling as possible, roll dough on floured board to 1/4-inch thickness. Let dough stand 20 minutes. Cut with 2 1/2 inch cutter. Fry in deep fat (375°F.) until brown, turning when first crack appears. 36 doughnuts.

DATE-NUT RENNET-CUSTARD

1 pound pitted dates, 1/2 cup pecans or walnuts, 1 1/2 cups milk, 1 cup cream and 1 rennet tablet dissolved in 1 tablespoon cold water.

Chop dates and nuts, then crush to a paste with fork. Warm milk to lukewarm in top of double boiler; stir cream into date-nut paste. Remove milk from boiler and stir in the paste thoroughly. Add dissolved rennet tablet and stir briskly for 1 minute. Stirring constantly, pour into sherbet glasses. Allow to stand at room temperature for 10 minutes without moving; then place in refrigerator to chill. Garnish with orange hard sauce.

COLONIAL PUMPKIN PIE

1 1/2 cups canned or cooked pumpkin, 1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1/2 teaspoon allspice, 3 eggs, slightly beaten, 1 1/2 cups rich milk, scalded, 1 unbaked pie shell.

Combine pumpkin, brown sugar, salt and spices and mix well. Add eggs and milk and cool. Pour mixture into unbaked pie shell and bake in hot oven (450°F.) 30 to 40 minutes or until knife inserted comes out clean. Serve with sharp cheese.

Hints

Did you know that apples and oranges, as well as other fruits and vegetables, might be purchased in consumer-size, economy bags? Why not buy a bag of apples for Hallow'e'en fun?

It's a good idea to check the weights of the lamp bulbs in the light the children study or read by. Better light, better sight!

Watch your dog's diet and very h, plaining his menu as carefully as your own.

Fun for Frolickers

FORTUNE TELLING TREE

Select a small leafless tree, or a bare branch with many twigs. From red and yellow paper, cut leaves, labelling each leaf with its variety: beach, bay, date, palm, plum, peach, pear, laurel, etc. Hang the leaves on the tree and allow each guest to pluck a leaf and hand it to a witch who tells the fortune. A bay leaf means a voyage; a beach, a trip to the shore; date, a pleasant invitation; palm, a gift of money; plum, a piece of good luck; peach, a charming sweetheart; pear, a speedy marriage; and laurel, fame.

GHOST TALES

Younger folks will have a lot of fun in masquerade costume; but will tire of this and find ghost tales more entertaining. If a fireplace or camp fire is available, seat the guests about it, presenting each guest with a fagot or small dry twig. The holder of the first twig starts the ghost story, tosses the fagot into the fire and tells the story until the fagot has burned to ashes, at which time the next fagot holder takes up the tale and continues until all fagots are burned.

POPCORN FORTUNES

Fortunes may also be told with popcorn. Pop a huge bowlful of it. An old-fashioned wooden butter bowl or an extra large salad bowl makes an attractive container. Be sure the corn is a tender variety, well-buttered and salted, for the guests will want to eat it after they learn their fortune. In the popcorn bowl hide small objects—button, coin, thimble, ring, etc. Each guest, using a ladle, takes up a scoop of corn and searches for the popcorn prophecy.

U. S. Gives Out Defense Warning

humble men and women are not free to think their own thoughts, to express their own feelings, to worship God...

"There can be no peace if economic resources that ought to be devoted to social and economic reconstruction are to be diverted to an intensified competition in armaments which will merely heighten the suspicions and fears and threaten the economic prosperity of each and every nation."

Asserting that "we recognize that the world today has become our neighbor" the President dwelt on the reciprocal obligations involved.

"There must be a deliberate and conscious will that such political changes as changing needs require shall be made peacefully. That means a due regard for the sanctity of treaties. It means deliberate avoidance of policies which arouse fear and distress. It means the self-restraint to refuse strident ambitions which are sure to breed insecurity and intolerance and thereby weaken the prospect of that economic and moral recovery the world so badly needs."

The United States, the President said, "does not seek to impose on any other people either our way of life or our internal form of government."

"But we are determined to maintain and protect that way of life and that form of government for ourselves."

"And we are determined to use every endeavor in order that the western hemisphere may work out its own interrelated salvation in the light of its own interrelated experience."

In a message which he delivered personally former President Hoover took the attitude that in the interest of future democracy the United States must remain aloof from European conflict, even from a war between the democratic and totalitarian states. The former president made clear that he did not mean that Americans should disassociate themselves from efforts to maintain world peace.

"We assert and we should continue to assert that the basis of international relations should not be force but must be law and free agreement. We assert this as a principle of life and civilization. We should give moral support to that principle on all occasions. But it is a vital inconsistency to seek to impose it upon the world by force."

Mr. Hoover said that the world's troubles were primarily economic and that relief of economic pressure would not only bring peace but also "relax" despotism in Europe.

Won't Publish Note

Tokyo, Oct. 27 (AP)—The United States note demanding that "unwarranted interference" with American rights in China be stopped, will not be published in Japan. Although the note specifically requested a prompt reply, the Japanese foreign office said no definite date for answering it had been set.

specific demands in the message: "1. The discontinuance of discriminatory exchange control and of other measures imposed in areas in China under Japanese control which operate either directly or indirectly to discriminate against American trade and enterprise; "2. The discontinuance of any monopoly or of any preference which would deprive American Nationals of the right of undertaking any legitimate trade or industry in China, or of any arrange which might purport to establish in favor of Japanese interests any general superiority of rights with regard to commercial or economic development in any region of China; and "3. The discontinuance of interference by Japanese authorities in China with American property and other rights including such forms of interference as conscription of American mail and telegrams, and restrictions upon residence and travel by Americans and upon American trade and shipping."

BAKED HAM IN SWEET CIDER

Ham for Hallowe'en

If you're planning to entertain on Hallowe'en—and most everybody does—you'll find this ham platter tasty, attractive and economical to serve. There are lots of meats that can answer the first two requirements; but most home-makers find themselves hauling on the budget trying to make both ends meet, so it's the cost angle that counts.

BAKED HAM IN SWEET CIDER

Select a ham of the desired weight, wipe with a damp cloth and place, skin side up, in a roasting pan. Pour two cups sweet cider over ham and bake in a slow oven (325°F.), allowing 22 minutes per pound for half hams, 18 minutes per pound for small hams and 15 minutes per pound for a ham weighing 12 pounds or more. Remove ham from oven 45 minutes before it is done; remove skin and score fat with criss-cross gashes, 1 inch apart. Insert whole cloves in each cross section. Combine 2 tablespoons prepared mustard, 1 cup brown sugar and 1 cup bread crumbs, mix thoroughly and sprinkle over ham. Return to oven and bake until done.

ACCOMPANIMENTS

Garnish the ham platter with ring molds of spinach filled with buttered corn, and grenadine pears. To prepare pears, add 1 cup grenadine sirup to 1 cup of sirup from canned pears. Heat to boiling point. Pour over pear halves and chill before serving.

A Midnight Snack for Merrymakers

Indoors or outdoors, you'll find this Cheese Banquet an appetite teaser. Second helping the rule—so be sure to provide plenty!

CHEESE BANQUET

Cut open a wiener, end to end. Fill with a slice of snappy cheese. Wrap wiener in bacon and pierce with toothpicks to hold bacon in place. Broil in oven or over hot coals, and serve in a bun. For variety, lay a slice of dill pickle alongside the cheese, or spread the cheese with a mild light prepared mustard. Hot tomato juice, hot coffee or sweet cider punch complete the menu.

RAISIN SPICED MEAT

2 apples, 1 tablespoon butter, 2 tablespoons water, 2 tablespoons raisins, 6 slices bread, 6 slices canned spiced meat and butter.

Peel, core and chop apples fine. Cook in butter and water until soft; add raisins. Butter bread, remove crust. Brown meat in butter, arrange on bread, cover with raisin sauce.

CRANBERRY GINGER RELISH

Chop 2 tablespoons candied ginger and cut 2 tablespoons orange rind in thin strips. Break contents of 1 can cranberry sauce with a fork and combine with the ginger and orange peel. Grand with hot or cold meats!

CHEESE BANQUET

Sees Gonorrhea Education

Kansas City, Oct. 27 (AP)—The day has come when gonorrhea, one of the major problem diseases in America, can be completely eradicated, Dr. Walter Clarke of New York declared today. Speaking before the annual meeting of the American Public Health Association, the director of the American Social Hygiene Association said that the disease is about to follow smallpox, typhoid fever and cholera into oblivion by the universal use of new scientific treatments. Medical men now have three highly effective weapons for eradicating it: Sulfanilamide, the comparatively new drug found effective in treating at least 10 other diseases; heat treatments to destroy the germs without burning the body; and hormone treatment, a recent discovery of Dr. Robert Lewis of Yale University.

Blames Women For Fires

Baton Rouge, La. (AP)—City Fire Chief Robert A. Bogan says

Now Many Wear

FALSE TEETH

With More Comfort

FALSE TEETH, a pleasant alabaster (non-acid) powder, holds false teeth more firmly. To eat and talk in more comfort, just sprinkle a little FALSE TEETH on your plates. No gummy, gooey, nasty taste or feeling. Checks plate odor (denture breath). Get FALSE TEETH at any drug store.—Adv.
